WAY PAVED TO BREAK UP ALIEN HOLDINGS

Senate Committee Approves Palmer's Plan to Sell Any Enemy Property in Nation

TO HAMPER GERMANY AND HELP WIN WAR

"Kultur" Outposts Will Be Stripped of Their Power to Aid the Cause of Kaiserism

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The $500,000,000 war finance corporation bill passed the Senate today by a vote of 74 to 3.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Congress today passed a bill for legislation empowering him to sell any enemy property in the United States within his discretion.

Such legislation attached to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill was requested by Palmer before the Senate appropriations committee in supplementing President Wilson's recent request for authority to acquire legal title to the German wharves and property at Hoboken, N. J.

PLANS TO BREAK UP "KULTUR" IN AMERICA

Plans to break up the vast holdings of German interests in the United States and place them in other hands, so that after the war they cannot continue to be what have been characterized as outposts of German "kultur" in America were presented to Congress today by Palmer and unanimously approved by the Senate appropriations committee.

Palmer asked, and the committee agree, that legislation should be attached to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill to sell these properties to any private interests, but not to the United States Government, the proceeds to be held in the treasury until after the war.

Whether the German owners will receive the money would be determined by the peace terms.

ACTION WILL HELP U. S. WIN WAR

American property in Germany, the committee was told, is subject to such action. Like treatment of German property in the United States, Palmer told the committee, would hamper Germany and help the United States win the war.

The committee by a party vote, however, with Republicans opposing, also approved an amendment to authorize the President to take legal title to the German steamship piers and property at Hoboken, N. J. The Republicans opposed it, fearing it might lead to government ownership and operation of shipping facilities after the war.

In taking over enemy property and selling it under the provision agreed upon today, the price would be fixed by the alien property custodian.

NOW LUMBER LUG

MARSHFIELD, Ore., March 7.—With no other state than a deck-hand's curse when a stevedore missed the line thrown to the dock, half of the Mexican navy under several bygone administrations entered Coos Bay this morning. The Benito Juarez is far from her old-time glory, for instead of being rated as a gunboat, she is here to act as a lumber lug.

ORDER CONTINUED

RIO JANEIRO, March 7.—A presidential decree was issued extending martial law in the federal district and several states until May 6, when Congress convenes. Martial law has been in force since November 10 in order to keep in check the activities of Germans who have attempted to embarrass Brazil in its war activities.

Safe Places Will Be Closed Against Too Timid Youths

WASHINGTON, March 7.—"Bomb-proof" jobs for men of draft age will no longer be granted by the war department.

All the staff corps has shut down on commissions of this class, except in the rarest cases, where the men are shown to be of unusual fitness.

This is a result of the issuance of a veritable flood of commissions to youths, many of whom would make excellent fighting material, but who are anxious to serve their country from a safe place behind a desk.

"Swivel-chair warriors" and "desk grenadiers" they are called by the regulars.

The ordnance and quartermaster corps were singled out by many men of draft age at the start of the war. Now no commissions will be available for such men in the ordnance, quartermaster, signal, medical or adjutant-general's departments.

GROUNDGLASS IS FOUND IN PEPPER HERE

Ground glass found by chemical analysis to be present in large quantities in pepper offered for sale in a grocery store conducted by M. Rainin at Bohmer and Derby streets, East Oakland, led to his arrest this afternoon by Inspectors McSorley and Flynn and Norman Denton, deputy food inspectors, as the result of an investigation made by Commissioner F. P. Jackson during the last few days.

Quantities of the pepper, both red and black, were seized by the officers as well as other grocery goods which may have been contaminated in the same manner, it is believed.

Federal investigation will be made into the case, Commissioner Jackson having taken up the entire situation with the Federal agents with a view of learning the source of the pepper.

It is believed that the pepper may have been treated with the ground glass before it was delivered to Rainin and that a score or more of small groceries in the east bay cities may have been dispensing the goods to customers.

Complaint was made recently to the health department by a woman patron of Rainin. An investigation was made by the police and health departments under order of Commissioner Jackson, deputy food inspectors, and submitting the pepper to chemical analysis. The report received by Commissioner Jackson today proved conclusively, he declared, that ground glass in considerable quantity was in the pepper.

This is the first of a large number of complaints based upon suspicions that ground glass was contained in foodstuffs offered for sale to be definitely determined by chemical analysis by the health department.

Captain of Inspectors Harry Green, who is now handling the case for the police department, stated that the entire matter will be sifted to the end in an effort to determine who is responsible. Rainin was taken into custody and is held on a misdemeanor charge pending further investigation.

NEED FOR NURSES

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Five thousand and nurses are needed by this country immediately, announced Surgeon-General Gorgas today through the American Red Cross.

Of the 50,000 registered nurses in the country, he said, there will be 30,000 needed for this year, but the need of 5000 for immediate service is imperative. Because of the difficulty in securing work when they are able to be called to their units at any time, Red Cross nurses who have been definitely assigned for service with a unit, will be given temporary employment in a Red Cross hospital while waiting for the assignment.

DEATH RATE FALLS

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Continued improvement of health conditions in the army camps and cantonments in the United States is shown in the detailed report of the surgeon general for the week ending March 1. The death rate—5.6 per 1000—is the lowest record since November 15, 1917.

"Pneumonia continues to decline in all the camps," the report says.

WIFE RECOVERS

DENVER, March 7.—Mrs. William Hale Thompson, wife of Chicago's mayor, who suffered a slight attack of pneumonia, recovered and resumed her journey to the Pacific coast this morning.

START ANEW IN SECURING HOWE JURY

Special Elisors Are Appointed by Visalia Court to Assure Oakland Woman Fair Trial

Chivalry and Objections to the Death Penalty Help Make Progress of the Trial Slow

VISALIA, March 7.—Fifty new veniremen in court this afternoon when the trial of Mrs. Orlan B. Howe for the killing of William B. Brooks was resumed before Superior Judge Allyn. Just before noon Elisor L. E. Davis, with the county clerk, returned to Visalia from the districts of the county the farthest removed from the scene of Brooks' death, bringing the new veniremen with him.

Attorneys expressed confidence that the jury would be completed this afternoon and tomorrow morning the prosecution would begin its evidence.

The matron who has Mrs. Howe in charge reports her in a more cheerful frame of mind today than at any time since her arrest. On her way to the courtroom just before the reopening of the trial at 1 o'clock this afternoon she was heard to say:

"I have suffered so much already I hope I will not have to suffer any more. I would not have to suffer die unless I could see my lawyer."

That the defense will offer an elaborate case was shown today when it became known numerous character witnesses now are rushing to Porterville from the East to give testimony at the trial. Whether this presages some new line of testimony, not heretofore intimated, is not known. Both sides, it is said, are prepared with character evidence.

Sheriff Smith has taken personal charge of the ten jurors already accepted. Last night the jury was entertained by the county at a local theater.

FLOWERS LIE IN DEFENDANT'S LAP

Carrying violets and roses, and plainly showing the strain which she has endured in the past few days, the defendant sat by her counsel's elbow and indicated by a nod or negative shake of her head her approval or disapproval of each man chosen for the panel. All day she watched alertly, taking into her own hands the responsibility of selecting those men who are to try her. With nothing upon which to base her choice except a woman's intuition, she heaved strangely close to the trained distinctions of her attorney's preferences in the matter.

Interest in the case throughout Visalia and the surrounding countryside is intense. Already they are making pools on the outcome. The money is two to one on an acquittal, or at least a hung jury. Local politics has entered into the situation to make it still more complicated. An election of district attorney occurs this fall. The incumbent wants a record case. His opponents want the opposite. The air is full of suggestions as to who would make a good choice for jurymen, and the other various details of the affair, with their local ramifications.

GALLANTRY LIMITS POSSIBLE JURYMEN

The great factor in the Howe case, and that is admitted by both sides, is the protection of women sentiment that is prevalent in the community. Farmer after farmer frankly has admitted that he did not approve the death penalty and would not send a woman to the gallows for any crime whatsoever. This sentiment has hampered the work of securing the jury, nearly 200 men having been disqualified principally on account of their strong prejudices.

Sensational revelations of the intimacy which existed for years between the Howe and Brooks family is to form one of the dramatic denouements of the case, according to the district attorney's office today. This angle of the case, it is declared, will give the keynote to the motives which lay beneath the dramatic killing of the man charged by Mrs. Howe with having slandered her reputation over a period of years. The defense, it is understood, intends to combat the narration of these episodes by the testimony of the defendant herself, as to the suffering which she is alleged to have undergone after the two families became estranged.

Under the conferees' final agreement, which will be presented in both bodies of Congress tomorrow and will be acted on first by the House, the period of government control of the railroads was limited to twenty months instead of the two-year period of the House bill and the eighteen months limit of the Senate.

The bill as finally accepted provides that the amount of taxes on railroad property to be levied in the various states shall not exceed the ratio on such property for the year prior to the government control of the railroads. The bill also provides that all short line railroads should come under the provisions of the act.

RAILROAD RULE Bill Is Ready For Congress

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Complete agreement on the railroad bill reached this afternoon by the House and Senate conferees. The last point in dispute, the rate-fixing power, was finally adjusted along the lines provided in the Senate bill. It gives the President authority to institute rates subject to final review by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

JAPAN HALTS HER MARCH TO SIBERIA

WASHINGTON, March 7.—America's position toward Japanese intervention in Siberia has halted, temporarily, at least, the contemplated action.

It was stated at the Japanese embassy here today that Tokyo is giving careful consideration to the questions discussed by the American government. There are no troops now en route to Siberia, it was stated, and none will go without further consultations between the two governments.

The state department claimed to be without information on the subject of the proposed Siberian venture today.

Wanting Japanese officials here insisted that their attitude their government has taken from the beginning approval of the allies and the United States before entering Siberia.

JAPAN HALTS HER MARCH TO SIBERIA

Attitude of American Government Delays Sending of Nipponese Troops at Vladivostok

WASHINGTON, March 7.—America's position toward Japanese intervention in Siberia has halted, temporarily, at least, the contemplated action.

It was stated at the Japanese embassy here today that Tokyo is giving careful consideration to the questions discussed by the American government. There are no troops now en route to Siberia, it was stated, and none will go without further consultations between the two governments.

The state department claimed to be without information on the subject of the proposed Siberian venture today.

Wanting Japanese officials here insisted that their attitude their government has taken from the beginning approval of the allies and the United States before entering Siberia.

The United States is the only nation that has withheld assent to Japan's proposed military expedition into Siberia. All other entente countries, as well as China, have supported the plan.

Whether, however, it will be carried out in its entirety, with complete occupation by Japanese and Chinese troops of the entire trans-Siberian railway from Vladivostok to Lake Baikal, will depend entirely on developments.

JAPAN AWAITS TURN OF RUSSIAN EVENTS

Should Russia submit timely to the German demands and occupation, it is believed here Japan must act with all her strength. Should the Bolshevik withdrawal before the Germans and refuse to meet their demands, then Japan will move very slowly while every effort will be made to placate the Russians.

The State Department withholds the text of Ambassador Francis' recommendations regarding recognition of a de facto government in Russia.

As pointed out in International News Service despatches yesterday, the positive stand of the American ambassador who insists that Russia is not yet lost to the entente, has had a very great deal to do with the formulation of a "hands off" policy by the United States in Siberia.

ACTION IN SIBERIA AGITATES GERMANS

GENEVA, March 7.—The German press is greatly agitated over the possibility of Japan intervening in Siberia, and the German people have already been warned to expect it.

Voices from Berlin today quoted the State Minister as expressing the opinion that President Wilson undoubtedly is giving deep consideration to the matter and that there probably will be an agreement by which Japan will and troops, in Asiatic Russia, to prevent the trans-Siberian railway and the supplies at Vladivostok from falling into German hands.

PROTECTION FOR AMERICANS URGED

American Ambassador Francis, wiring from Vladivostok to the Norwegian envoy here, urged the latter to afford every protection to Americans in Petrograd.

According to the commissariat of foreign affairs, Francis and his staff have left Vladivostok for Perm, capital of the province of that name, sixty-five miles east of Vladivostok and less than 200 miles from the Siberian border.

Despite the signing of peace with Germany the Russian government is moving its valuables from the capital. The foreign office is moving to Nijni-Novgorod, capital of the province of that name, 375 miles east of Moscow. Women, children, aged persons and invalids continue their exodus.

Commissaries Schukot, Ronchbruevitch and Pronchian have been named a defensive triumvirate.

The newspaper Pravda, supporting Premier Lenin, says:

"Lenin is denouncing his reactionary banner with the obvious desire of restoring the revolution and restoring the bourgeois regime. A Russian counter-offensive now would afford the Junkers an excuse for completing the destruction of the revolution."

"Peace is unfortunate, but does not matter, as the struggle against imperialism continues under changed forms."

Invaders Capture City of Jamburg Teutons Slaughter Slavs Victims Are Shot and Hanged

BULLETIN: AMSTERDAM, March 7.—Official announcement was made in Berlin today of the signing of a peace treaty between Germany and Finland and also of trade and shipping agreements and a supplementary protocol. The treaty was signed at noon today.

PETROGRAD, March 7.—Ensign Krylenko, commander-in-chief of the Bolshevik armies, has resigned on account of the differences with the commissaries regarding political and military questions, the Nova Yajuzn declared today.

LONDON, March 7.—The Germans have captured Jamburg, east of Narva, while the Turco-German offensive is continuing beyond Trebison, says a Russian official agency despatch received here today. This action, adds the statement, is despite the official announcement by the German high command that hostilities against Russia have ceased.

The German advance eastward into Russia stopped early Tuesday, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Petrograd dated Wednesday, but was resumed during the night on several sectors in order to allow the Germans to reach and consolidate the line between Jamburg and Gdoff, east of Lake Peipus and south of Narva.

It is reported in Petrograd that the Germans have captured the property of landlords restored and other conditions approaching the old regime revived in towns occupied by the Germans.

Jamburg is on the railway line from Reval to Petrograd and only 68 miles from the Russian capital. The Germans were reported in yesterday's despatches to have halted at Narva, 100 miles from Petrograd.

Trebison is on the Black Sea coast of Turkish Armenia. The Turks were reported to have re-occupied the Trebison region in their offensive when the recent peace treaty was signed.

The Bolshevik government has been showing concern over reports that the central powers were continuing on the aggressive against the Russians despite the conclusion of peace under the recently signed treaty.

By JOSEPH SHAPLEN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

PETROGRAD, March 7.—Germans shot and hanged 200 Russian citizens at Yuriev without mercy, refugees from Estonia reported to Smolny today. Women and children's bodies were thrown in the river, they said.

Foreign Minister Trotsky was asked to notify the German and Estonian officials that continuation of the German outrages would result in the execution of 150 barons and landowners, held as hostages near Pskov.

A conspiracy of students and officers to overthrow the Bolshevik government resulted in a raid on a house near the Winter Palace. Six students were shot.

German troops, after aiding Rada government forces in the occupation of Kiev, moved to Zhitomir (100 miles west of Kiev in Volynia).

UKRAINIAN TROOPS DEFEATED BY RUSS

General Petelur, leading a Ukrainian detachment, sought to cut off the Petrograd railway at Zhitomir. At Konotop, 150 miles northeast of Kiev, in the province of Chernigov, heavy forces of revolutionary troops defeated Petelur, compelling him to retreat. The Germans did not participate in this action.

The Moscow Soviet voted overwhelmingly to ratify the peace treaty with Germany, following a visit from Zinoviev and others. This is accepted as indicating the Premier Lenin "steam roller" may succeed.

This is not the Pan-Soviet Council of Workers, Peasants, Soldiers and Sailings called to meet in Moscow March 12, to pass on ratification of the treaty.

Italian Front Shows New Activity When Batteries Open; Sunshine on English Front

BULLETIN: WITH THE AMERICAN IN FRANCE, March 7.—An American patrol, comprising one officer and eight men, which had been missing since last night in the sector northwest of Toul, suddenly emerged from a shell hole close to the German lines today and made a dash across No Man's Land without a shot being fired at them.

HAVRE, March 7.—The Germans continue to dynamite the engines, machines and foundations in factories around Mons, according to Belgians who have recently escaped from Belgium. They are also carrying off the rails from street and local railway tracks.

Deportations of Belgians continue and have extended to children 13 years of age.

LONDON, March 7.—"A raid attempted by the enemy last night east of Epehy, under cover of a heavy artillery barrage, was completely repulsed," the war office reports. "Other hostile raiding parties which endeavored to reach our lines southeast of Bois de Grenier and east of Poelcapelle were equally unsuccessful."

"The enemy's artillery has been active in the Scarpe valley, west of Lens and east of Ypres, and shortly before dawn developed considerable activity in the Neuve Chapelle sector."

"After two days of wind and rain the weather cleared slightly today. Bombs were dropped on railway sidings northeast of Lille."

"In air fighting two hostile machines were downed and one was driven down out of control. One of ours is missing."

"After dark the Ingelmunster railway station and an airfield north-east of St. Quentin were heavily bombed. All our machines returned."

GERMAN RAIDS ARE REPULSED

PARIS, March 7.—German raids on the Verdun front last night were repulsed by the French, the war office announces.

"Rather heavy artillery firing occurred in the regions of Comy and Rheims. Last night the Germans made raids against our trenches at Avocourt, wood and northwest of Hill 244 (Verdun front). Our fire everywhere checked the assailants and prisoners, including an officer, remained in our hands."

"Our lines were bombed intermittently today in the region of Avocourt and north Douaumont. At times there was heavy artillery firing at various points in Lorraine and Alsace."

"On Tuesday three German airplanes were brought down by our pilots and two by the fire of our anti-aircraft guns."

"Macedonian front: There was reciprocal artillery activity west of Lake Doiran, in the Cerna Bend, and north of Voden."

"An official statement issued today by the French war office announced the repulse of German raiding forces on trenches held by Americans in a new sector of the Lorraine, and says: 'North of the Chemin des Dames there east of Courcy French troops concentrated successful raids on the German trenches and brought back about twenty prisoners.'

"On the right bank of the river Meuse there was violent artillery fighting in the region of Carriers and Chaume Woods. At the last mentioned place the Germans yesterday morning delivered an attack, but were repulsed after spirited fighting."

HUN ATTACK IS FAILURE

"A heavy German attack at Chetlers Wood was completely checked by the French and we took some prisoners."

"In Lorraine a German raid on trenches held by American troops was repulsed. Patrols of our allies operating in this region took some prisoners."

"In the Vosges the enemy made several vain attempts to reach the French lines."

WANT BECKS CLEARED FOR NEXT DRAFT

Local draft boards were today ordered to make way for the coming draft call under the new classification, by Adjutant General J. J. Borree at Sacramento. This order applies to all routine matters, physical examinations and the like.

Street is being by Adjutant General Borree upon what is termed "slacker marriages" which are under appeal to district boards. These are marriages classified by the government as having been performed for the purpose of creating exemptions for the government.

There are quite a number of these in Oakland, all of which are under appeal to the district board in San Francisco.

The adjutant's instructions declare that the district boards are finishing up final matters before it, and that Sacramento does not want "matters dribbling in" until the work is supposed to be finished.

With the completion of the physical examination of registrants in Class 1, which practically all of the boards will be able to accomplish by next week, the work of the classification will be finished.

City Market Is Urged For Patriotic Reasons

War Service League Executive Committee Asks Commissioners to Expedite Work

By HARRY L. SULLY.

Formal resolutions endorsing the municipal market plan for Oakland and urging the city commissioners to expedite the establishment of a market for patriotic reasons were unanimously adopted by the Oakland War Service League executive committee last night. They will be submitted for ratification for the general membership of the league at the meeting to be held in the blue room at the Hotel Oakland tomorrow night.

The municipal market was also given unanimous endorsement at a meeting of the Joaquin Miller Club at the Municipal Auditorium yesterday. The resolutions adopted requested the Oakland City Council and the board of market directors to be established by local boards today.

From Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder at Washington, through Adjutant General Borree's office today. The revised instructions are to the effect that the district boards are finishing up final matters before it, and that Sacramento does not want "matters dribbling in" until the work is supposed to be finished.

With the completion of the physical examination of registrants in Class 1, which practically all of the boards will be able to accomplish by next week, the work of the classification will be finished.

BOY'S ILLICIT RADIO PLANT CONFISCATED

A radio receiving plant at 1505 Market street, Oakland, was confiscated early today by Lieutenant H. D. Hayes, radio inspector of the Pacific naval communication district, following an investigation which developed that the plant has not been taken down since the time of the President's proclamation and was being used to "listen in" on the Marshall, Bollins and Pearl Harbor naval stations.

The plant was the property of William Conners, 18 years old, and a deliberate attempt had been made to conceal its usefulness by the removal of the antenna and the connection of a long lead wire with one of the guy wires holding up the pole, giving the apparatus secret antenna, which made its use possible. The youth was not arrested, but will be taken before Lieutenant Ford V. Greaves, in charge of the naval communication bureau at this point, and possibly prosecution by the government may follow his failure to give a satisfactory explanation as to why he did not dismantle his apparatus and what he was doing with the radio.

Whereas, the disposition of the food stuffs raised enters largely into the question of inducing the people of Oakland to fully plant the lands, and

Hammond Statement Entered One Given Attorney Introduced

The statement given by William Hammond Jr. to the district attorney at the time of the disclosure in connection with the alleged conspiracy of Hammond and E. B. L. Zimmer, to defraud Portland real estate men and banks by passing a $20,000 forged check, for which Hammond is now on trial before Superior Judge James G. Quinn, was introduced today by Assistant District Attorney Koford, Miss Margaret Walker, shorthand reporter in the district attorney's office, gave the testimony.

In his statement at the time Hammond denied that he was at the home of W. H. Hickey Sunday morning, January 6, as testified to by Hickey, Detective George Higgins and Mrs. Hickey, where the details of the illegal deal were discussed between the three principals.

At the time Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris, who questioned Hammond, asked him what he would say if that Mrs. Hammond said he was at Hickey's house.

Denies Being There.

"I would say you were crazy," Hammond answered. "I feel like a fool being questioned," he said. Asked as to whether the reading to him of Hickey's statement as to what took place at the meeting would refresh his memory, Hammond replied that nothing would refresh his memory as to what took place at such a meeting for the reason that he was not there.

Hammond denied that he had ever discussed a check deal with Zimmer and that so far as he could remember, Hickey's name was never mentioned to him by Zimmer. He said he knew from Zimmer that the latter was contemplating a trip to Portland to collect a note owing him by a man named Copenhagen. He said he never saw Zimmer and Hickey in conversation.

He went on to tell him, Hammond, that he had a man at the meeting and that you were there and discussed this whole affair," Harris was saying, according to the witness.

"Not me," Hammond denied. He said

WOMAN DEFENDS HINDU IN TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7. — The defense of Tarak Nath Das, former Berkeleyan, and an associate of Camille de Berri, later Mrs. Verne Smith of Berkeley, was begun this morning in the Hindu Ghadr revolutionary trial with the testimony of Mrs. T. H. Talbot of Berkeley. Directed by Attorney Bartlett, who is defending Das, Mrs. Talbot attempted to controvert the testimony given earlier in the trial by Mrs. Smith as a witness for the government.

"I knew Mr. Das, met him in a social way, and through him became interested in the Hindu propaganda," said the witness, "and finally became an active participant against British rule in India, but do not believe that his connection with the Ghadr party has the sinister objective of carrying the flame and sword to the British residents of India. Das had in mind a purpose of settling ideas in India."

WHITTHORNE & SWAN—Washington at 11th Street

Whereas, the disposition of the food stuffs raised enters largely into the question of inducing the people of Oakland to fully plant the lands, and

Whereas, inasmuch as last year's experience demonstrated that the spring garden food stuffs were often wasted by reason of lack of facilities to dispose of same at a reasonable price, and

Whereas, the only solution to the question of disposition of the surplus foods raised in these gardens is the founding in Oakland of a municipal market, which will permit the persons having surplus garden foods to dispose of the same at only a nominal expense to themselves, and

Whereas, the government of the city of Oakland is already taking steps to solve this important question, now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the mayor and city council of Oakland be and they are hereby commended for their efforts to found such municipal free market; and be it further

Resolved, That the Oakland War Service League through the various organizations represented therein, will make every effort to aid in the speedy realization of the establishment of such municipal Free Market.

FREE MARKET URGED.

The Joaquin Miller Club was addressed yesterday on the market problem by Mrs. E. A. Stone, member of the Oakland Board of Market Directors; Mrs. James Hamilton, director of Increased Food Production for Oakland; representatives of the College of Agriculture; Mrs. Paul S. Gillette, who has made a study of public markets in Denmark, Germany and England and by Harry L. Sully.

Mrs. Stone read excerpts from the report of the market board appointed by Mayor Davis, a report submitted to the city commissioners but not as yet made public, although it was prepared last year before the making of the budget. In it the committee pointed out the need for a survey of the market situation covering a study of many weeks, conferences with experts, correspondence and investigation of the local situation, much of it being matter that has been handled in detail in the series of articles published by THE TRIBUNE during the past month. The availability of the land back of the Municipal Auditorium was discussed in the report, the land originally suggested by Mayor Davis for the market site, and the reasons why this site has been abandoned—the chief factors being the cost of preparing the site and the distance from the shopping center. The committee report also took up the Lafayette square site, and suggested that this would offer itself with little difficulty to the establishment of a municipal market and would meet the necessary conditions.

DATA IS GATHERED.

"We were appointed about a year ago," said Mrs. Stone, "perhaps some of you have wondered why we have not erected anything. This report will show you that we had a well refined plan of procedure, and that we submitted it to the city council. If nothing has been done, it is not our fault. We did the best we could. We gathered the data, created the situation, and made our recommendations."

Mrs. Stone stated that the market board had advocated the erection of a sanitary, well equipped market building to which the producers could bring their goods. The board had also advocated the creation of a revolving fund at the disposal of the market board or market master, with which foodstuffs could be purchased when they were at the lowest price and supplied to the consumer at cost plus the cost of handling, as a means of keeping down prices.

Mrs. Hamilton told of the troubles of the small producer and the average producer in getting products marketed, and declared that while the large producers have succeeded with the present methods, under which the commission man and wholesaler or the canner buy up his crops on the field, the small man has many difficulties to cope with and would be glad to take advantage of a public market.

Mrs. Gillette told of the market in Denmark of the co-operative movement among producers there, and of the possibilities of solving the high food cost problem here. She presented a plan for a terminal market in Oakland, a fish market and a retail market.

Sully reviewed the markets established in other cities as described in THE TRIBUNE series on municipal markets, and told of the movement under way to establish a market in Oakland.

That the agitation for the establishment of a market is not new in Oakland is demonstrated by the following resolution adopted by the Progress and Prosperity Committee on March 5, 1907, for eleven years ago, and unearthed from the minutes of the organization. It is probable that the minutes of almost every other improvement and civic organization of Oakland would show similar resolutions adopted from time to time. Movements started by these organizations have never come together into one stream before, with the result that nothing has been done.

HIGHER WAGE FOR 100,000 IS ASSURED

UNITED PRESS
LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO, March 7.—A wage increase for 100,000 packing house employees here was assured when the union committee admitted finally today to Federal Arbitrator Samuel Alschuler. Attorney J. G. Condon, in his closing argument for the packers, stated they are willing to give a 10-hour day and higher pay. Attorney Frank P. Walsh, in final rebuttal this morning, pleaded for the employees' full demands of $1 a day advance and inauguration of the 8-hour working day in the industry.

"The organized packers of America, afraid of or ashamed to come here in person, hired clever brains to come and plead that you keep industry safe for autocracy, while the hosts of democracy are battling for freedom."

FINAL PLEA.
With these words, Frank P. Walsh launched his final plea before Arbitrator Alschuler here today for the packing house employees' demands for an eight-hour day and higher pay. Walsh hurled a denial at the packers' stand that the 8-hour day and higher pay would endanger food production for the army of America and her allies. He bitterly condemned the employees' plea that discontent, unhealthy for the national morale during the war, would follow an award of higher pay in the packing industry than obtained in other plants.

Turning toward packers' superintendents in the room in the course of his demand for a living wage, Walsh shouted:

"These employees' children are hungry, they are cold because you are not paying a living wage. God never intended any man to have the arbitrary power you packers have, power to tell your employees what they shall eat and what they shall wear. These employees adopted the only method known of successfully coping with it—collective bargaining through a union. Let these men surrender their economic rights to strikes and agreed to abide by this arbitration award during the war."

Walsh offered to match "this patriotism" against the packers' argument that their demands endangered the war.

Several hundred employees from "Packingtown" were present to hear Walsh's last words in their behalf.

James G. Condon closed for the packers this morning by quoting authorities in support of the claim that 79 per cent of poverty is due to other causes than low wages. Only 25 per cent of the laboring men in the United States, Condon argued, have an eight or nine-hour working day.

Twenty-one per cent work from 50 to 55 hours a week and 22 per cent have a 55 to 60-hour week, while one-fourth of the country's industrial labor is on a 55-hour basis, he claimed.

Condon advised the arbitrator that the packers were willing to grant time and a half for any work after 10 hours. He asked of twice Alschuler, in case his award fixed a basic number of hours per day, that the unskilled employees' work day be made one hour longer than for the skilled, as in the building trades.

CONDUCTOR KILLED.
NEEDLES, March 7.—Thrown from the steps of his train, J. N. Rousey, Santa Fe conductor, was run over and instantly killed here today.

HONOR FLAG OF THIRD LIBERTY LOAN UNFURLED

WASHINGTON, March 7.—In the presence of a throng of government officials and employees at the south front of the treasury today, the honor flag of the third Liberty loan, a red bordered banner with a white interior field bearing three vertical blue stripes, was unfurled.

Motion pictures of the scene will be displayed in 17,000 theaters.

One flag will be awarded to each community exceeding its quota during the third loan campaign, to open April 6.

TEST AUTHORITY OF WEINSTOCK

Whether State Market Director Harris Weinstock has authority to fix prices of fish, whether authority existed over him and has been lost by Weinstock to the Federal Food Administrator or whether no such control over prices exists is expected to be settled by court action as the result of the defiance by A. Paladini, wholesale fish dealer of San Francisco, of an order by Weinstock. Paladini refused to produce his books to be examined by Weinstock.

As a result Weinstock has instructed his attorneys to file a petition in Superior Court, asking that Paladini and his four sons, who constitute the firm of Paladini & Co., be cited to show cause why their books and documents should not be produced for inspection by the market director.

It was declared that no stone will be left unturned to prohibit producing in fish.

The Paladini case is only one of several before the market director, according to Edgar Allen Fisher, secretary of the State Fish Exchange and drastic action will be taken in each one.

The direct result of Paladini's overcharging, it is said, is to materially increase the price to consumers. The evidence in the case is said to consist of various bills which show definite overcharges.

The Paladini Company has been repeatedly warned, Forbes said last night, and has utterly ignored it.

$20 OR 24 HOURS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Colonel Herbert Choyinski, former National Guardsman and attorney-at-law, is facing a 24-hour jail term today as the result of an altercation in Justice Barnett's court culminating in the striking of Attorney W. F. Foster with his hat. It was the colonel's objection to the pointing of the prosecuting lawyer's finger at him during the argument of a case that led to the trouble. Judge Barnett gave Choyinski the alternative of a $20 fine and the latter obtained a 24-hour stay of execution.

WOMEN CALLED TO SATURDAY MEET

Every woman in Oakland who is interested in offering herself for service to her country or to the various organizations which have been formed to carry on defense work is summoned to a meeting on Saturday morning at 10:30 in the upper rooms of the Defenders' Club, at Thirteenth and Harrison streets. The call is sent out by Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Power, local chairman of the National League for Women's Service, having the full cooperation of the Oakland woman's committee, Councils of National and State Defense, of which Miss Ethel Moore is chairman.

William Cressy, the National Minute Man who is appearing this week at the Orpheum, Miss Marion Leslie and Mrs. S. C. Smith, of the Council of National and State Defense, will be the speakers. The method of enrollment for service, the broad fields which work work covers and the elastic obligations which are imposed by the individual will be explained in detail. The League is beginning an aggressive and constructive campaign in the city.

"We believe it is now time for women to enroll for service," said Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Power this morning in speaking of the work of the National League for Women's Service. "There must be something done toward systematizing the service of knowing who may be called upon and what kind of work they are equipped and trained to do. All women who are interested in the vital task of evaluating the woman power of the city are asked to join the meeting tomorrow morning. The Oakland committee, for press association despatch from Pensance. After the submarine's gunfire, the skipper, wounded severely, urged his men, including his son, to save themselves.

BARBARIY OF HUN COMMANDER IS WITNESSED

LONDON, March 7.—How the members of the crew of a German submarine brutally killed the wounded master of a Belgian fishing smack who refused to leave the vessel, is described in a press association despatch from Pensance. After the submarine's gunfire, the skipper, wounded severely, urged his men, including his son, to save themselves.

The submarine commander forced the fishermen to row Germans to the smack to place bombs aboard. One German shot the helpless skipper through the head in the presence of his son.

URGES ECONOMIES

One hundred and six public utilities in California asked permission of the State Railroad Commission to raise rates since the war, but only forty-seven have been granted this permission, according to a statement by Commissioner Max Thelan, speaking last night in the Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco, before the University of California Extension course class. Commissioner Thelan, discussing "War Time Public Utility Problems."

"Public utilities should not expect to increase their profits during the war," Thelan said. "Likewise when a public utility comes before the State Commission and asks for increases, it should be prepared to show that it has eliminated all unnecessary expenses."

"Our public utilities must be kept in a sound and healthy financial condition, so that they will be able to meet not merely the requirements of their existing patrons, but also the additional requirements of the war."

GRANT 8 HOURS

BOISE, Idaho, March 7.—The eight hour day given the loggers and lumbermen on the coast early in the week will be extended to the mills and camps operated by the Boise Payette Lumber Company, C. A. Burton, the general manager, announced upon his return from Portland, where he and other operators met Colonel Bruce P. Disque, head of the spruce production for the federal government, in conference.

With the shorter day will come a new scale of wages, but this has not yet been worked out.

The eight hour day will be adopted in all mills and logging camps east of the Cascade mountains in Oregon. It will affect mill employees and loggers at Baker, LaGrande, Bend and other eastern Oregon towns.

WIN NEW WAGE

PORTLAND, Ore., March 7.—Standard wages of common laborers in the spruce and fir industry of western Oregon and Washington will be 45 cents an hour with a maximum of 50 cents an hour. The maximum wage for laborers in the white pine section in the eastern portions of the two states will be 40 cents an hour, Colonel Bruce P. Disque, director of the spruce production bureau of the army's signal corps, announced the scale. He had been delegated to decide upon and fix the wages by the Local Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen in conference here last Monday. Time and a half will be paid for all over-time. Copies of the wage schedule were mailed by Colonel Disque to 11 lumbermen in the district.

DIVORCE RECORD

CHICAGO, March 7.—Cook county, which embraces Chicago, today leads the world in granting divorces, according to a report from Mr. Clarence Elmore Britton, director of the County Social Service Bureau. Figures are given to show that even Japan, which formerly held the lead, has been passed.

While marriages in 1916 increased 6 per cent over those of 1915, divorces in the same period increased 20 per cent.

To check the evil, Mrs. Britton recommends uniform divorce and marriage laws. She also recommends congressional action of some kind to provide for a longer time between the granting of a license of divorce and marriage.

SEED CORN SHORT

CHICAGO, March 7.—Waste of thousands of acres in the corn belt was threatened today by a dire shortage of seed corn throughout Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Indiana. The normal corn acreage will be cut one-third in Illinois alone and the nation's corn crop greatly curtailed, experts declared, unless immediate relief comes.

State Council of Defense officials are sponsoring a revolving fund of $2,000,000 to buy seed corn for Illinois farmers. Prevalence of "soft" corn in the last crop is reported responsible for the seed shortage.

STUBBS WINNER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today reversed the decision of the United States District Court at Los Angeles in the conviction of Ira Stubbs, charged with using the mails to defraud. Stubbs was found guilty of the alleged defrauding of Mrs. Mary Abernethy in connection with the sale of real estate. The circuit court in reversing the judgment declares that from the evidence Stubbs might be considered guilty of trickery but that no situation to defraud is established.

TOO MUCH FLOUR; SUSPEND LICENSE

MODESTO, March 7.—For breaking the rules of the Food Administration by carrying more than thirty days' supply of wheat flour, Louis Berthold, owner of the Modesto Bakery, has had his license suspended for thirty days. The C. A. Hutton Company of San Francisco that sold the flour to Berthold was saved from similar punishment by a technicality when the case was tried yesterday. Food Commissioner Ralph P. Merritt, however, warned the company that another case of over-supplying a baker would result in revocation of its license. Meantime he ordered the company to take back the surplus flour supplied—about 500 barrels—and return it to the regular channels of distribution, and also to bear all losses of freight and handling thereby entailed.

Berthold pleaded that he was keeping the flour merely to "age it" and did not know he was violating the law. He also alleged that the Hutton Company's salesman had urged him to buy large quantities of flour to guard against a depleted stock.

FREDA HEMPEL, SINGER, TO WED SILK MAGNATE

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—Miss Freda Hempel, famous soprano and grand opera star, expects to become the bride of William B. Kahn, New York silk magnate, according to reports confirmed by Miss Hempel at the Alexandria Hotel today.

"Yes, we are to be married—and quite possibly while I am in Southern California. Heretofore there have been many rumors concerning our engagement, but this is the first time we have consented to make public the announcement."

Deputy Sheriff J. J. Collier returned from a visit to his son, J. W. Collier, with Battery E, at Camp Kearny, a former employee of The Tribune, who just prior to his enlistment, was admitted to the bar, and reports that he as well as the other newspaper boys at the camp are in fine fettle. Collier was a sergeant in the infantry before he was transferred to the popular Battery E.

supply through difficulties of transportation.

NATIONAL PARTY STATES PLANKS

CHICAGO, March 7.—Nation-wide prohibition and women's suffrage will be the leading plans in the platform of the new National party, which resumed sessions of its first national convention here today, augmented by more than 100 delegates, who bolted the prohibition party late yesterday, when that party deadlocked over a proposed merger.

Progressive leaders throughout the country are also rallying under the new standard, according to Chairman Cowles of Colorado of the National party, and a merger of the more important units of this political body is looked for.

REPORTS BEING ROBBED.

That he was held up by two thugs at Twelfth and Fulton streets last night and robbed of $150, was reported to the police today by Charles A. Fletcher of 1006 Sixth Avenue. Fletcher said that the men started to beat him and that he pretended to be unconscious. They then went through his pockets and took his money.

22 Million Families in the United States

If EACH FAMILY saved one cup of wheat flour it would amount to 5,500,000 pounds, or more than 28,000 barrels. If this saving was made three times a week, it would amount to 558,000,000 pounds, or 4,372,000 barrels in a year. You can do your share in effecting this saving and really help to win the war by omitting white bread from one meal today and baking in its place muffins or corn bread made according to this recipe:

Corn Meal Muffins
1 cup corn meal
1 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
2 tablespoons sugar
No eggs
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons shortening
Sift dry ingredients together into bowl; add milk and melted shortening and beat well. Bake in greased muffin tin in hot oven about 20 minutes. Same batter may be baked as corn bread in greased shallow pan.

HUNT HUSBAND

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—With William A. Althouse, a salesman, near death, following an attack resulting from a quarrel over a woman, George F. Kennedy, mining engineer of Miami, Arizona, is being sought by the police today on an assault warrant.

According to Mrs. Titus L. Bartholomew, a relative of Althouse, who is employed by the W. T. Garratt Co. of this city, the injuries expected to cause Althouse's death were inflicted by Kennedy when he found Althouse and Mrs. Ken-new together in a hotel at 427 Bush street. Althouse has been in the St. Francis Hospital since January 27 under the care of Dr. John Graves.

According to the report of police detectives who have investigated the affair, Althouse and Mrs. Kennedy and another couple figured in a merry New Year's Eve party, and later went to the hotel.

CITY CLERK DIES.

FRESNO, March 7.—William H. Ryan, city clerk of Fresno for the past thirteen years, died at his home here of heart failure.

GETS YEAR TERM

SEATTLE, Wash., March 7.—C. L. Orr, a hardware merchant of Bellingham, Wash., has been sentenced to one year in the Whatcom county jail by Federal Judge Jeremiah Neteror for violation of the Reed amendment, which prohibits the importation of liquor into dry territory. Orr was convicted of bringing forty-nine quarts of whiskey from British Columbia last November. The sentence is one of the heaviest ever imposed here for violation of the federal liquor statute.

EXPOSITION PROS AND CONS TO TALK

Final action by Commissioner Fred W. Morse in the controversy that has been started as a result of the opposition of the city of Oakland to the proposed location of the Pacific Coast Land and Industrial Exposition having use of the Municipal Auditorium and grounds has been postponed until after a meeting between the two factions and himself. Invitation to this meeting has been extended by Commissioner Morse but no date has been set.

Commissioner Morse also is investigating the demand of the theatrical men that George Keefe, manager of the Auditorium, be removed because of his connection with the proposed exposition. At its last meeting the Oakland Rotary Club adopted resolutions approving of the exposition and expressing confidence in those who are in charge of it.

CHARTER IS QUOTED.

The communication demanding the discharge of Keefe follows:

"To Fred W. Morse, Esq., Commissioner of Public Works of the city of Oakland, and to the Civil Service Commission of the City of Oakland.

"Gentlemen: The articles of incorporation of the Pacific Coast Land and Industrial Exposition, filed in the office of the county clerk of the county of Alameda, show that Mr. George Keefe is the owner of certain shares of said corporation.

"Mr. George Keefe is the superintendent of the Civic Auditorium of the City of Oakland and as such is an employee of the city of Oakland.

"The Pacific Coast Land and Industrial Exposition has leased from the city of Oakland the Civic Auditorium and theater and the grounds surrounding the same which are the property of the City of Oakland, from the 15th day of August to the 15th day of October, for the purpose of conducting a land show.

"In this connection we desire to call your attention to Sections 36 and 37 of the city charter of the city of Oakland which reads as follows:

"Section 36. No officer or employee shall as agent, attorney or otherwise, be directly or indirectly interested in any contract, work, or business of the city or in the sale of any article, the expense, price or consideration of which is paid for from the treasury or by assessment levied by municipal authorities; nor in the purchase or lease of any real estate or other property belonging to the city or which shall be sold for taxes or assessments or by means of legal process at the suit of the city.

"Section 37. No officer or employee of the City of Oakland shall detail or cause any officer, employee, or subordinate office of the City of Oakland, or any part thereof, to do or perform any service or work outside of his public service, work or employment, and any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months.

"A perusal of these sections will, in our judgment, show you that Mr. Keefe has violated the sections of the charter in that he is directly interested in the lease of real estate and educational and advertising value to the city of Oakland, and we hereby request that proper steps be taken as provided by the charter of the city of Oakland for the removal of Mr. Keefe from the city employment."

CLUB ENDORSES.

Following is the Rotary Club resolution:

"Whereas, the city of Oakland of the city of Oakland has rented the Civic Auditorium and grounds surrounding same to the Pacific Coast Land and Industrial Exposition for the purpose of holding an exposition of scientific, educational and advertising value to the city of Oakland and the county in general for a period of two months beginning August 15, 1918, and

"Whereas, the holding of this exposition would bring thousands of visitors to Oakland to view the scenic and economical advantages of our city, and

"Whereas, the hotels, restaurants, merchants and theaters will be benefited by the great attendance from without the city to the exposition, and

"Whereas, the state and county exhibit, the manufactures, agriculture, horticulture and motor power displays of farm machinery planned at the exposition are educational features encouraged by the United States government at this particular time when the resources of the nation are of much vital import, and

"Whereas, we believe the proposed exposition was conceived and is being developed in the best interests of the entire community by a group of public-spirited and unselfish citizens who have the best interests of the community at heart, now therefore be it

"Resolved, that the Oakland Rotary Club, at a regular meeting of the board of directors held Tuesday evening, March 5, does hereby commend the action of the city council of Oakland in granting the lease of the Auditorium and grounds to the Pacific Coast Land and Industrial Exposition and herewith tender our whole-hearted endorsement and support to the enterprise."

FINAL SYMPHONY

The San Francisco symphony orchestra, under the direction of Alfred Hertz, will give the final concert of the special Oakland series, at the Auditorium Opera house tomorrow evening.

This will be the sixth event, as against four concerts held last year. Conductor Hertz has arranged such an attractive farewell program that a vast throng is anticipated.

Emilio Puyans and Harold Randall, the distinguished flutist and clarinetist, respectively, of the organization, will be soloists, playing "Saint-Saens' 'Tarentelle' for flute, clarinet and orchestra, a composition that will exhibit their virtuosity at best. It is a light and graceful work.

Louis Persinger, the concert master and brilliant violinist, will play the "Lento" of Bach-Wilhelm's "Air for the G String." Wagner's "Dreams," Mozart's symphony in E flat, and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade" suite, in four movements, will be the other offerings.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" will be given its usual stirring rendition. "Scherzando" suite has been a favorite with Oakland music lovers, and the colorful interpretation which Hertz will give it is certain to disclose new beauties.

PROSECUTION OF I. W. W. PROMISED

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The I. W. W. is gradually diminishing and is segregated almost in its entirety to the state of Washington, Secretary of Labor Wilson said today.

Deportation will follow conviction of any I. W. W. who happens to be an alien, the secretary said, and in cases where the person is an American, punishment will be turned over to the police.

An undercurrent of insidious German propaganda has incited the I. W. W. members in their attacks on property, Secretary Wilson said, and while responsibility has not been fixed on any one member, the organization has been subjected to strong pro-German influences.

The secretary expressed his entire willingness to confine I. W. W. offenders in one camp and promised vigorous prosecution of future members who attempt to block American industry by destruction of property.

DRANK IN BED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Before soldiers and sailors were supplied with liquor they were required to take off their uniforms and cover up in bed, under instructions of M. Drake Perry, former proprietor of the Lincoln Hotel, 115 Market street, according to the testimony of Charles R. Harris and Jacob Forsyth, former bellboys at the hotel.

THINKS TALES OF INJURED CHILDREN OF HUN ORIGIN

That the rumors as to mutilated Belgian children being in this country are started and circulated by the Germans for the sake of being able to declare them erroneous and to claim that all other accusations are to be judged untrue since in this particular case no proof is forthcoming, is declared by Rev. J. F. Stilleman, director of the Belgian Bureau in New York, in a statement saying he does not believe there are any such children in the United States. He adds:

"This has nothing to do with the question of German atrocities or more particularly the question of the treatment meted out to Belgian or French children. Some people seem to think that unless children with hands cut off are brought to this country there is no truth in whatever they hear concerning German atrocities.

"The accusations against the Germans will stand unrefuted and Germany will continue to be abhorred as the most degraded nation in history, until the Germans submit to a complete and official inquiry conducted by a disinterested court.

Who are on trial with Perry in the United States court on charge of selling liquor to enlisted men.

In evidence yesterday the boys declared the business was so profitable that out of their tips they hired an extra man to attend the elevator, so they could be free to serve their soldier and sailor customers.

SALOON ROBBED BY TWO BANDITS

Two robbers entered the saloon of Cordano and Lanella at Twenty-second and Market streets early this morning, and at the point of revolvers held up Joe Lanella, who was on duty, and robbed him of a sack containing $175. They then turned about and fled up Twenty-second street, evading capture.

According to the police, Lanella said that the two men had been hanging around the saloon for a couple of days and had evidently watched where he placed his money. Last night they entered while he was alone and asked for two glasses of beer. While Lanella was drawing the beer they suddenly commanded him to throw up his hands and they leveled revolvers at him. The men were unmasked and wore blue overalls.

This is the second time within the last few months that the same saloon has been visited by robbers. Inspectors Enlish and Robinson are working on the case and it is expected that arrests will be made.

SUES FOR $1300.

CATARRH

New and Curious Remedial Discovery That Never Fails to Give Immediate Results

Here is a safe and easy method for getting at catarrh that invariably surprises chronic sufferers because of the immediate and pleasing effects it produces. There is no waiting for results. Just to cite an instance, take the experience of Mr. H. Elser, Lexington, Neb., who writes: "Dear Sam Katz: I received your catarrh treatment, and in two days my catarrh was gone. I am now cured."

The Sam Katz method which this gentleman and thousands of others have used, is different from anything you have ever known of. There is nothing to smoke, spray or inject; no salves, creams, vibration or massage. Everything about it is natural and healthful.

The exact remedial combination of this method is a secret known only to myself and my associates, although I will say this much: it is based on the modern scientific discovery that the disease germs causing catarrh must be destroyed and dislodged from the infected tissue in order to effect a radical and permanent cure.

Banish Your Catarrh, Restore Your Health and Organic Vitality

Catarrh, as you know, gradually works downward from the nose, throat and head, through the entire system, doing damage everywhere. Fevers, chronic diseases, deafness, head noises, confused thoughts, weakness of the memory, weakened vision, sore eyes, boils, nervousness, general languor, rheumatism, lame back, neuritis, stomach, liver, kidney bladder disorders, weaknesses of the vital organs and many other maladies and ills may, any or all, be due to the ravages of the disease we call catarrh. Only cleanse your system of the deadly catarrh germ, a task that my method is purposed to accomplish, and your entire organism responds, giving you a new sense of vital vigor and renewed health. As Nancy A. Davis of Waynesboro, Miss., writes me: "Dear Sam Katz: I feel like a new woman. I think your catarrh treatment is worth its weight in gold."

Full Box Sent On Trial

Don't send any money, not even a stamp, but simply your name and address on a postal or in a letter, and I will arrange to forward to you, postpaid, a trial box of the Sam Katz Catarrh Materials, the same that I have sent to tens of thousands all over the world. There will be enough of the Materials for a fifteen days' test, after which you may go on with the full course if you so decide. The Sam Katz Catarrh Materials are always put out in these trial packages, no matter how far from Chicago the sufferer may live, including Canada and foreign lands. So do not hesitate or delay. Write at once. I want you to try this mysterious remedy without risking a penny of your money. I will gladly take all the chances. Please address, SAM KATZ, Dept. H. C. 245, 2909 Indiana Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

SPOKESMEN OF ROMINGER BILL NAMED

Senator Arthur H. Breed, president pro tem of the upper house of the legislature, today appointed the spokesmen for and against the Rominger initiative measure, acting under the provision of the state constitution, which provides that the president of the senate shall name the persons to write the arguments to be sent to the voters with the sample ballots.

Senator Breed named the following men: To write the arguments in behalf of the Rominger measure—A. Rominger, state senator from Long Beach and author of the measure, and Frank T. Swift of Martinez, president of the State Viticultural Commission, member of the State Agricultural Commission, and author of the measure, and Frank T. Swift of Martinez, president of the State Viticultural Commission, member of the State Agricultural Commission, and author of the measure.

AGAINST MEASURE. To write the arguments against the measure—C. E. Bunschu of San Francisco, president of the State Viticultural Commission, partner in the firm of Gundlach & Bunschu, and Harry Ryan, 177 Capp street, San Francisco, organizer of the Trades Union Liberty League of California.

Senator Breed sent the names of the appointees to Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, today. The spokesmen for and against the measure will immediately be notified and will be asked to submit the arguments in a given time to make possible the printing of the statements to be sent out with the sample ballots.

Voters of California will have some radical departures in liquor legislation to consider on their ballots in November, according to delegates to the California War Federation convention, which has adopted a schedule of revision to the constitutional amendment designed to cure alleged existing liquor traffic evils.

Among these revisions is the elimination of the "grand" and the substitution of a continental tavern in its stead; the sale of hard liquors containing 21 per cent or more alcohol only in packages of one pint minimum contents; the sale of light wines and beer in tavern style; the establishment of one tavern to each 1000 population; one "sealed package" house to each 2000 population; prohibition of the sale of hard liquors in hotels and cafes; unlimited licenses to hotels and cafes for wine and beer sales; manufacture of wine from grapes and malt liquors in two-gallon lots or over; high licenses and heavy penalties for violation.

TAVERN IDEA

The continental tavern idea, which it is claimed will remedy the greatest evil of the saloon business, drunkenness, is the work of State Senator Dan Regan. Under the federation's agreement no licenses would be issued to any but American citizens who had been residents of the country in which they sought to do business for at least a year prior to the date of their application. The amendment also contains a provision that where a man is served liquor in violation of the law, his wife or children may collect damages.

At the conclusion of the federation meeting the following officers were elected for the year: P. N. Hanrahan, Oakland, president; Peter Delaney of Berkeley, vice-president; Theodore Gier of Oakland, treasurer; Frank G. Roney of San Francisco, secretary; E. A. Nussberger of Napa, marshal; William Knochendorfer of Alameda, inside guard; August West of Fort Bragg, outside guard; and W. L. O'Connell of San Francisco, P. E. Gray of Oxnard, Ernest Bohlen of San Francisco, Henry Lohrers of Stockton, M. J. Gastman of Sacramento, Fred Gunther of Bakersfield and A. J. Clancy of San Diego, trustees.

MARRIES AGAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Although she has never been divorced from her first husband, Andrew M. Griffith, Mrs. August M. Griffith of 765 Sutter street has been permitted to take out a license to marry Henry C. Cleveland. In taking out the license yesterday, Mrs. Griffith invoked the "Enoch Arden" clause of the civil code, which provides that a woman may consider her husband dead and remarry if she has heard nothing of him for five years.

As "Fat" L'Heureux, the village poet and superior court clerk, says: "Lives of divorcees remind us. Things that we had best avoid; One is not to leave behind us Letters that should be destroyed."

NO, INDEED AUNT INDY IS NOT TO BE EATEN

J. B. Stocker has a small offspring who is from Missouri. Know the type? Always skeptical. Always have to be shown. Future lawyers, scientists reporters, etc.

One of the local theaters had an animal act on its program the other night. Said Stocker: "Let's go down and see the show. I think Jean (meaning the small daughter) would like to see the anteater."

Jean pricked up her ears. Being the proud possessor of a mother's sister, commonly classified as "aunt," she thought she heard what she heard.

"I won't let Aunt Indy go and be eaten," she said. (P.S.—If you have one like this you will appreciate the joke, otherwise not. Kindly be governed accordingly.)

HE'S BACK AND THAT SEEMS TO PROVE IT

Here's another on Judge Tappan. Lives on a scow, or a boat-house or a yacht or something out in the estuary. He is a famous character. His houseboat is famous. It got away last winter. The Judge went to sleep off the roof of Webster street just as a storm came up. All night the wind whistled and the breaking waves dashed high. Two or three times the Judge felt his houseboat jar, but he decided it was the water pounding against his craft, and went off to sleep again.

When he awoke, by the dawn's early light, the ark was resting on the land. A man walked down to the shore, and looked Judge Tappan over.

"Hey," said the man. "Who told you you could anchor on the Farallones Islands?"

"Who are you?" asked the Judge.

"I am the lighthouse keeper," said the other.

The Judge swore he rowed all the way back—33 miles—with one arm and an oar he borrowed from the man.

Oh, well—he's back anyhow!

CALL HIM "DOC YAK" AND THEN LISTEN

S. W. Lore, familiarly known as "Doc," in memory of the time when he practiced as a physician, before he became identified with the union labor movement, objects to his new nickname of "Doc Yak." Lore, who has been a labor leader since he bought an automobile—a "Tin Lizzie," in fact. The Central Labor Council refers to it as his "Pierce Sparrow," or as "Old 848," and to him as "Doc Yak."

They say that no offense is intended—they all think THE TRIBUNE comic is a fine old character, and the same goes for Lore.

But—

Call him "Doc Yak" to his face, and he answers: "G-r-r-r!"

GETS RID OF ALL THE "HAM-ANDS"

They gave a new name for the actors and actresses that throng the Hotel Oakland corridors with a dog of some kind on the string. They call him them "Ham-and!"

The "ands" have been getting thicker and thicker around the place. Poodles, koodles, rheumatisms dogs—every kind. The management has been keeping them all down in the basement, but even a basement has its limits. Last night Billy Berovitch, cigar man and paid valet, called W. C. Jurgens, the manager, over.

"Look here," he said. "What'll you do if I get all the dogs out of the hotel?"

"I'll give you the best dinner you ever ate," said Jurgens.

An hour later, Berovitch called Jurgens a second time.

"Gimme the dinner," he said.

"You haven't solved the problem already, have you?" asked Jurgens incredulously.

"Sure! Let's eat."

"But wait a minute. How did you do it?"

"Took 'em outside and tied 'em to a post. That's all right, ain't it?"

NOT BECAUSE HIS HAIR IS CURLY, BUT—

Whether it is because he is such a handsome officer of the law, or because he is so good natured, or because he had been along all the ropes and knows how, is not explained. But all the other bailiffs are jealous as green-eyed monsters of Al Smith, bailiff in Judge Quinn's department of the Superior Court.

The reason is a fine hand-made gavel with which to rap for order and rap the noisy ones on the coxco if they will not desist. And the gavel is made of mahogany and rosewood, and a present from the lady jurors. Some of them are married, and goodness knows what will happen at home!

PIONEER CALLED

Mrs. Mary Blankenship, one of the pioneer settlers in Contra Costa county, passed away yesterday at her home, 1502 Franklin street, Oakland, at the age of 84 years. Coming across the plains in an ox team from Missouri in 1854, Mrs. Blankenship experienced many of the perils of pioneer days and narrowly escaped death at the hands of attacking Indians.

With her husband she first settled in Solano county. A short time later the couple engaged in farming in the vicinity of what is now Martinez. Fifteen years ago following death of her husband Mrs. Blankenship removed to Oakland, where she lived with her daughter, Mrs. O. F. Greening.

Surviving her are one son, Charles Lee Blankenship, and three daughters, Ida Blankenship and Mrs. O. F. Greening of Oakland and Mrs. Charles Mallory of Gilroy. Seven grandchildren, one of whom is Sergeant J. A. Greening of the Berkeley police department, and three great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from the Greening residence. Interment will be in Lafayette, where Mrs. Blankenship's husband is buried.

LIKES DOG'S LIFE

Leading a dog's life is not always an enviable occupation, but think of a young man who deliberately chooses a vocation that necessitates barking at his associates and growling at thousands of people every evening.

Barking as a profession may be more or less remunerative around a circus or country fair, but to resort to it as a legitimate means of livelihood is another thing, yet Alfred Latell, who is recognized as being the greatest of all animal impersonators, and who will be seen here at the Orpheum next week, modestly goes through, season after season, earning a good salary growing and barking and acting just as any other well-bred dog for that's his mission in life (the incarnation of a puppy). He has led many other kinds of lives, including that from a cat to a baby goat.

In order to keep in the "atmosphere" of dordom Latell decorates his dressing room with photographs, drawings and sketches of dogs, including old bones and dog biscuits.

DEAF AND DUMB MAN CURED BY DIVER'S ATTACK

AN ATLANTIC PORT, March 7.—Shells from a German U-boat proved a boon for Walter Jones, a soldier of Glencove, Long Island, who was invalided home and reached here from a French port today.

Jones was rendered deaf and dumb as a result of shell shock in the trenches in France. On his way across the Atlantic his ship was attacked by a submarine and in the excitement of the attack he recovered his speech and hearing.

NO GRAIN FOR BREWING

LONDON, March 7.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons today, Sir Gilbert Parker, representing the food ministry, declared that until further orders no fresh grain may be used for brewing.

MISSSES JEWELS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Frustrated in his intention to steal $500 in diamonds because they were being worn at the time of his raid, a thief made off with $1500 worth of jewelry from the apartments of Mrs. Henry Wolf, a permanent guest at the Fairmont Hotel. Mrs. Wolf believes that the object of the thief's visit to her apartments Tuesday night was to secure her valuable diamonds, which she happened to be wearing. When she returned from the theater she found that the apartments had been ransacked.

U. R. FILES CLAIM

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Damages amounting to $558,000 are demanded of the city in a claim filed by the United Railroads with the Board of Supervisors, on the ground that the complainant has suffered through the blanketing of its lower Market street lines by the Municipal Railway and by interference with its service caused by excavations made when the Municipal Railway tracks were installed.

THE HOME OF NURSING WEAR—FOR THE FAMILY

FINE CROPS IN PROSPECT, SAYS EXPERT

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—A fine season is in prospect this year for the farmers and fruit growers, according to President F. B. McKevitt of the California Fruit Distributors. Recent rains have changed both the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys so that splendid crops are looked for, and a review of the situation, President McKevitt says:

"Notwithstanding the fact that this has been the driest winter that California has known for many years, up to the time of the generous rains that fell about the middle of February, since then the conditions, especially for grain, have radically changed. Up to that time there were thousands, possibly hundreds of thousands of acres in the state that had been prepared and sown for grain where no growth whatever had been made and we were fast approaching a time when unless moisture came soon almost a failure of crops was threatened. Since that storm, however, the situation has completely changed. Those fields that were so dry and brown only a short time since are now green with the growing grain, and it is unquestionably true that our grain crop today is in far more promising condition than it was one year ago."

BIG-CROP EXPECTED.

Sufficient rain has fallen to give the crop a splendid start and it is safe to say that with timely showers from now until the end of the season a splendid crop may be looked for. This is true of practically the whole of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys.

"It is too early, of course, to predict with any degree of certainty regarding the prospective fruit crop. Fruit trees, however, are well budded. Almonds have bloomed freely and promise well. Apricots in the non-irrigated sections will probably not produce more than about half a crop. In other sections, where irrigation is practiced, conditions are very much better and the crop promises well. A few varieties of early plums have commenced blooming and indications are good for a crop. As time progresses the varieties will mature and bloom, and at which time we can better predict the output than today, but so far as buds are concerned there is nothing left to be desired."

Owing to the drought prevailing previous to the last storm there was fear that even in the irrigated sections summer water might be scarce, owing to the very light snowfall, but the recent rains were duplicated by heavy falls of snow in the mountains and there is now every reason to expect that there will be sufficient water to carry the State through the season.

MARCH STORMY MONTH.

"In the non-irrigated sections we still must have considerable rainfall in order to produce a full crop. The ground in these sections has been pretty well moistened to a depth of three or four feet. Without doubt other storms during the month will add to it until the upper and under moisture meet. In nine years out of ten the month of March is sufficient in storms so that there seems to be no reason to doubt but that sufficient moisture will be obtained in all sections to make the usual bountiful crops."

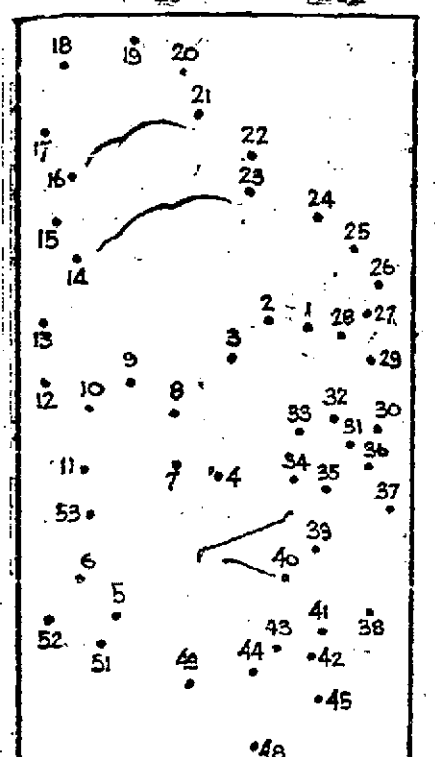

"The last two years have been distinguished by splendid crops and unusually fine markets. Present indications give promise of marketing conditions equal to those of the past two seasons; hence the farmers and fruit growers of the state are looking forward to a fine season in all respects."

"There is, however, great anxiety because of labor conditions since it was with great difficulty the harvesting of last year's crop was made successful. This year we are facing a much greater shortage of labor, because of the exodus of Mexican labor last year, undoubtedly brought about through the war, and also a greatly increased number of our own young men will be withdrawn from the industry this season because of the new levies for our army. This will make it necessary for the agricultural interests of the state to call upon every able-bodied man to go into the fields and work. Without this it will be impossible to harvest anything like a normal crop."

PROBE IS HALTED

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Investigation into the Hog Island shipyards was halted today. At the request of the officials of the American International Corporation, the probe by the Senate commerce committee of charges of extravagance and waste of the government funds was postponed until Tuesday.

Grows Tired of Her Gardener Husband; Sues

MRS. JULIET KLEIST and her husband Max.

Daughter of New York Millionaire Is in Reno for Divorce

RENO, Nev., March 7.—Mrs. Max Frederick Kleist formerly Miss Juliet Breitung, daughter of Edward N. Breitung, New York millionaire, filed suit for divorce here against her husband, whom she married when he was a gardener in Marquette, Mich. It became known today.

Mrs. Kleist has been living in Reno for seven months. It is not known whether Kleist will contest. He once sued his father-in-law for $250,000 for alienation of his wife's affections, complaining to the court that rather than be arrested for stealing some socks he took a job in a mine "carrying dynamite down a slippery plank." The Breitung had a summer home in Marquette where Breitung has railroad interests. Kleist, who was working as a gardener, told the court that Miss Breitung made love to him and encouraged him to come to New York and marry her. The marriage was short-lived. In 1913, soon after the ceremony, it was given out that Kleist was to "work his way up" into a position of affluence as the son-in-law of the Breitung. He reported the failure of this program when he found his way up lay in taking dynamite "down the slippery plank in the Breitung mine."

The papers in the divorce case are withheld and the charges are not made known, but it is supposed that desertion will be alleged.

TELLS OF "RED TRIANGLE" WORK

Speaking before the secretaries' conference of the war work men of the national war work council of the Y. M. C. A., Harry N. Holmes, for two years on the British front in Flanders in charge of 110 English Y. M. C. A. dugouts and huts serving the soldiers, told the story of the work of the Red Triangle, this morning at Hotel Chastanot.

"Of the forty-six huts, no less than ten have been damaged or completely destroyed by shell fire in the past few months," he said. "As many dugouts have been blown to pieces, but it doesn't stop the work of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries except for a few hours."

"The Y. M. C. A. has developed at the front until it has become an essential part of modern battle. We aren't an outcast now. We are doing a great and glorious and dangerous work over there on the front and the men appreciate it."

"One of the most heroic bits of Y. M. C. A. war work on the western front is being done by Dr. Magrath, who for the nine months has lived in cellars in Ypres. Every night he goes out there on his 'Y' work was blown to pieces. Shrapnel came into the cellar twice, piercing the hot water boiler where he made his cocoa and tea, but he never left his post."

"At the great battle of Vimy ridge he established a 'Y' station at the front within an hour after the battle had ended. At Wishart Ridge he and his workers served hot tea from a dugout. It is this sort of work that has made the Red Triangle appreciated over there."

"But though it is thoroughly appreciated over there, the work in this country is appreciated, also. You have the first touch with the soldier here, and it is important that it be a real inspiration to him. You can't do enough for him. He is giving his life in the hardest warfare the world has ever seen."

"I want to tell you that the entry of America into the war has rejuvenated France. It has put heart into the people and has strengthened them. They are a new nation because of America's entry into the war. They see victory now with the help of the boys from America. The American flag flies beside the tricolor of France in Paris today and it is a great, inspiring, thrilling sight."

This evening of conference has given over to pleasure and a program has been arranged to follow a dinner to which the ladies are the guests of honor. With the evangelistic address tomorrow morning of W. C. Mason, better known as "Big" Mason, a celebrated evangelist, the conference will close.

TO HOLD FUNERAL

Alameda lodge of Elks will conduct the funeral, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow, of Henry C. Kennah, a partner in the former law firm of Sudger, Sudger & Kennah, who died yesterday at his home, at 5315 Ocean View drive. Kennah was 41 years of age and a native of Ohio. He leaves a widow.

JUSTIFY PUBLIC UTILITY DISTRICT

The Public Ownership League of the east bay cities met in Chabot Hall last night to discuss the projected formation of a public utilities district. The speakers of the evening were Joseph S. Thompson, director of the Marin Water District, and Mayor Greene Majors of Alameda. Leslie E. Marston, president of the league, presided.

Thompson in his talk declared that the directors of his district would file a report shortly upon last year's water conditions which would be a revelation in public ownership matters. He endorsed district control of water distribution after fourteen months of trial in his county as an "unqualified success."

"While we have accomplished no reduction in the water rate as yet, owing to the short time we have been in operation, we can safely say that we have realized a municipal profit," he declared. "The people were worried for years under private ownership not to use water for fear of exhausting the supply. We have issued no such warning and find more than enough water for every use, even at the end of a dry fall season. This illustrates the point of my talk that only under a public utilities district system can the true facts of public supply be learned."

Mayor Greene Majors of Alameda outlined the municipal electric light system of Alameda as a sample of a publicly controlled utility which had been operated with a profit.

"Our net earnings for the past year, with a plant of a million dollars, amount to approximately $53,835," he declared. "We are giving much better actual service than a privately owned system. We have no dark spot in sixty miles of streets, and we do it with only 430 single lamps. Not only have we accomplished a profit for Alameda which is building our $25,000 industrial highway and establishing other improvements, but we have held down the gas rate in the entire east bay district. If the money we have earned had gone back to the public in the form of dividends instead of toward public improvements, it would have amounted to $2 per capita."

President L. E. Marston of the league declared that the sentiment in favor of a public utilities district is growing throughout Alameda county. He read communications from Oliver Ellsworth, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Piedmont, and ex-officio mayor, Supervisor Charles Heyer, and several executive heads of neighboring towns, endorsing the plan and assuring individual co-operation. The league has said held eleven meetings during the past month and had its scheduled for March, among them being a big mass meeting at San Leandro.

RELICS OF WAR SHOWN PUBLIC

Close-up information of what the American boys are facing today in their battle against the Hun drive in Europe, is being given at Kahn brothers, where, on the third floor, is being shown a collection of war relics direct from the French battlefield, under the auspices of the British and Canadian Recruiting Missions. The death dealing instruments represent the maximum of barbaric cruelty and are attracting crowds of shoppers and others who are agnost at the showing.

Among other things which are being shown is a saw-toothed bayonet used by the Germans, the deadly gas shells which produce blindness, the airplane bombs with which women and children have been blown up in hospitals in air raids, gas, equipment, iron helmets captured in action, German battle flags covered with the mud of Verdun, and a score of other war souvenirs. A British machine gun with which the Americans are holding back the Germans on the west front drive is also being shown.

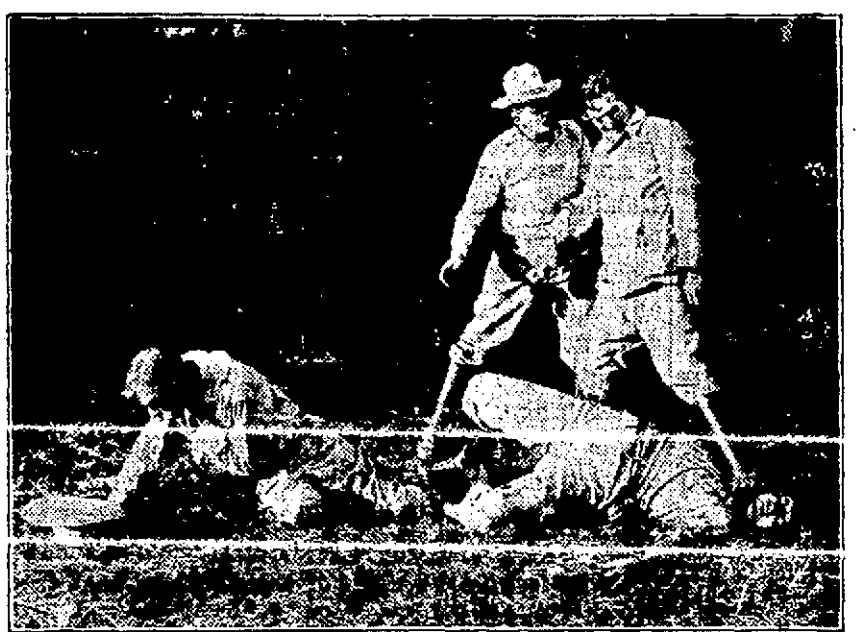

The relics have been brought to this country for exhibition purposes. They have been shown in New York city and after being on display during this week at Kahn's, will be taken to San Francisco and shown there. The display is open to the public.

MATE IN HOSPITAL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Charles Kisselburg, first-class musician at the Alhambra, is suffering from a bullet wound in the leg, as the result of being accidentally shot by Corporal Patrick Nestor of the army provost guard, when the guard tried to prevent 500 soldiers and sailors from rescuing a prisoner on Geary street near Fillmore last night. Nestor accidentally discharged a revolver after he had been struck over the head by a member of a gang that attempted to rescue Private E. J. Cray, Company H, Sixty-second Infantry, from Fremont, whom Nestor and Kisselburg had arrested for refusing to obey the army regulations forbidding soldiers to remove their coats while attending dances.

During the plan and assuring individual co-operation. The league has said held eleven meetings during the past month and had its scheduled for March, among them being a big mass meeting at San Leandro.

Oakland War Correspondent's Story Told at the Kinema

Scene from the Planter, film play by Oakland war correspondent. The Planter is filling the Kinema at every performance, and is replete with dramatic interest.

Intrigue in Mexico Shown in "The Planter" by Herman Whitaker

No better representation of American coming on the scene just in time. The whole story and film play is a great big success and a glorious shining light that will serve as an international ad for Oakland and her remarkable literary genius.

Herman Whitaker knew his subject well, having spent several years among the planters of Tehuantepec, learning their methods, and then with the atmosphere well planted he started this vile red-blooded tale of tropic passion and crooked greed versus the fair square dealing of a young American sent there as a dupe, but who turns the tables on the stock jobbers.

The action is fast, winding up in a smashing big climax with a rebellion among the natives, and the American

CABARET SUPPER TO AID 3 FUNDS

Three war funds are to benefit from the cabaret supper dance to be given by Oakland Chapter No. 35, Royal Arch Masons, on Thursday evening, March 21. These are the Oakland Chapter of the American Red Cross, the Soldiers' and Sailors' Service Fund and the Masonic War Fund.

The affair will be held at the Civic Auditorium and already promises to draw a large crowd, both by reason of the entertainment planned and the worthy objects to be benefited. Professional talent from the different theaters have volunteered to perform between the dances. Music for dancing will be provided by the band of Ahmies Temple of the Mystic Shrine, a band of forty pieces. During the evening a cabaret supper is to be served at tables in the boxes around the sides of the auditorium.

The executive committee in charge of this war benefit is composed of the following members of Oakland Chapter: Frank L. Carson, chairman; George H. Smith, secretary; C. L. Barham, Walter D. Bunker, H. C. Capwell, Thomas A. Crellin, F. H. E. O'Donnell, John C. Foster, B. A. Forrester, Augustus Kempey, D. R. Marth, Dr. W. J. McCracken, Harry O. de la Montanya, James S. Nal-smith, Major C. T. Poulter, Wirt D. Spencer, H. C. Taft, Percy J. Walker, H. L. Breed and Charles J. Waterhouse. The presiding officer of the Oakland Chapter during the present year is Wirt D. Spencer.

LIVINGSTON DIES

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning for Ernest S. Livingston, head of the marine department of the Aetna Insurance Company in San Francisco, who died at his home, 36 Park street, yesterday afternoon. Livingston engaged in the insurance business more than 20 years ago, when he was associated with his father, John Livingston, a pioneer insurance broker, in the firm of Livingston & Smith.

Ernest S. Livingston left that firm ten years ago to become a member of the executive staff of the Aetna Company in San Francisco. He was 40 years of age and was a native of San Francisco. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Charles Livingston, daughter of John D. Eby, president of the Eby Machinery Company, San Francisco, one child and two brothers and three sisters.

Read What Oakland People Say:

FORTY-SEVENTH AVE.

A. L. Richey, shoe repairer, 1709 Forty-seventh Ave., says: "My kidneys were weak. When I stooped my back felt the pain the most and I had to straighten up by degrees. With this aching and pain there was soreness, lameness and a tired feeling across my loins and kidneys. Every cold settled in my back and made my condition worse. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me right away and rid me of the trouble in quick order." (Statement given December 3, 1913.)

On April 19, 1917, Mr. Richey said: "Never in my life have my kidneys been in such good condition as they are now and I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's cured me and there has never been a return symptom."

HENRY STREET

Mrs. H. E. Wamsley, 529 Henry St. says: "A cold settled in my kidneys and brought on an attack of kidney trouble. When I stooped to put on my shoes in the morning a sharp pain often caught me in the small of my back and I could scarcely straighten. I had a tired, languid feeling and didn't have much strength. My feet swelled badly and my kidneys showed signs of weakness. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from The Great Drug Co. and four boxes relieved the backache. I felt like a different woman after taking Doan's." (Statement given January 18, 1916.)

OVER A YEAR LATER Mrs. Wamsley said: "I shall never go back on what I have said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I know they will help anyone who will use them right. For some time I have had no occasion to use Doan's, but if ever my kidneys get out of order I will use nothing but this remedy."

THIRTY-EIGHTH STREET

Mrs. L. A. Buell, 278 Thirty-eighth St. says: "My kidneys were in a terrible poor condition about four years ago. I could hardly go about, my back was so lame and weak. I shall never forget the awful dizzy spells I had and at times I would get so dizzy and sick to my stomach I could hardly stand it. When I bent over I could hardly get up again and half the time I had to go around with my hands on my back. I felt anything but well until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. But they soon rid me of the trouble and made me well and strong again."

SAN PABLO AVENUE

James B. Wrench, Tailor, 5657 San Pablo Ave., says: "The pains in my back between my shoulders had bothered me for a long time and caused me so much discomfort I could hardly sit still or do anything. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they greatly benefited me. I no longer suffered from the pain in my back and the pains in my head left, too." (Statement given in September, 1912.)

MORE THAN FOUR YEARS LATER Mr. Wrench added: "My back and kidneys have been in the best of condition ever since Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of kidney complaint. I always back up what I have said about Doan's, because it's the truth."

E. FOURTEENTH ST.

Sam Britton, Proprietor of second-hand store, 421 E. Fourteenth St. says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of backache and other annoyances, due to weak kidneys. I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. I will always be ready to back up what I have said about Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know from my own experience they are good."

Mr. Britton gave the above endorsement in December, 1915, and on April 19, 1917, he added: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made in my case has stood the test of time. My kidneys have been in the best of condition ever since Doan's cured me."

NINETY-FOURTH ST.

Mrs. K. Steffens, 1650 Ninety-fourth St. says: "Some time ago my kidneys were in such a bad condition I could hardly move. When I bent over it seemed as though my back would break and I would get dizzy and faint. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. Doan's soon cured me and I felt better in every way. I have felt fine ever since."

THE ALLIED NAVAL SITUATION.

First Lord of the British Admiralty Sir Eric Geddes officially states that American, English and the other allied fleets are sinking German submarines as fast as Germany can build them. The "curve" of allied shipping losses is downward. He does not say, however, that the Allies are satisfied or that they will let up in their efforts to completely overcome the undersea boats. Naval warfare is increasing in our favor, he asserts. Co-operation between the American and British navies is as near perfect as possible. "American officers are working in every section of the admiralty personnel. All ranks have earned the gratitude and the respect of all."

These assurances from the British naval chief, who is a hard-working business man not given to exaggeration or undue optimism, are fair to hear. They tell of the failure of the submarine to affect the final outcome of the war unfavorably to the Allies.

From the statement that "naval warfare is increasing in our favor," it is to be presumed that the Allied navies have discounted long since the comparatively easy feat of Germany in bottling up the Russian fleet in the Gulf of Finland. While the Russian navy was not strong compared to the German high sea forces, it nevertheless compelled Germany to include it in her calculations. Throughout the war, and especially since the occupation of Riga, it has been necessary for Germany to keep a large force in the Baltic Sea. Now that the Bolsheviks have quit, and the Russian fleet is disorganized and bottled up in a port, Germany may gauge the Baltic situation with certainty.

These developments increase the power of the German fleet to strike in the North Sea, if it should elect to do so. Undoubtedly Sir Eric Geddes had this phase of the Russian disaster in mind when he addressed the House of Commons Monday.

Recent evidence of a lack of understanding of the matter leads THE TRIBUNE to reiterate the statement of its definite policy to refuse to publish, as paid advertising or in any other form, reflections upon the integrity of any individual, business firm or association.

JOHN REDMOND.

The world of John Redmond removes from the world of Irish affairs and aspirations one of the most distinguished champions of Ireland's claims to larger political freedom and independence. He has kept for a generation the "Irish question" to the front in British politics and the attention of the world pretty well focused on that question. His fight was a hard one against odds that were to him insuperable, yet he showed a courage, resourcefulness and pertinacity that was the envy of his colleagues and often the great confusion of his opponents in the British government. His record is clean, honest, consistent—something that cannot be said of the majority of politicians.

Yet there is a sad phase to Redmond's career—as sad to the onlooker as it was to Redmond in the closing days of his life. He labored hard for Irish Home Rule for over thirty years. He started as a colleague of Parnell. When the latter died, leaving Ireland's prospects in blacker despair than they had known for many years, Redmond helped to carry the Parnellite burden and to resuscitate the Irish party in the British Parliament. In a few years, he became the leader of that party. Besides holding the practically unanimous support of his partisan colleagues, he retained the allies that Parnell had been favored with in the English party and made new friendships. Notable among his friends on the English side was John Morley, publicist and statesman, who was Irish Secretary under Gladstone, and a member of the government until the beginning of the war in 1914.

Redmond fought for home rule when it was the peak of radicalism in Ireland. It was his idea, and the idea of his party, that Ireland should be an autonomous dominion within the British empire and to that cause, approved by the most revolutionary citizens of Ireland at the time, he devoted his life.

But when he thought he perceived his dream almost realized an apparently powerful party in Ireland rallied to a new policy. It became known as the Sinn Fein and aimed at the absolute separation and independence of Ireland. In less time than it took to fire a gun of rebellion or to seize a shipload of arms and ammunition, Redmond found himself a despised conservative and reactionary among a large section of his fellow countrymen. The goal to achieve which he had made his life work—Home Rule—was held in contempt and notice served in emphatic terms that it would not solve the centuries-old Irish question.

And when fatal illness came to Redmond the Dublin convention appointed to solve the differences between England and Ireland had, after months of faltering deliberations, ceased to show any signs of life. He was without hope that any good would come out of his last effort. News of a recrudescence of revolution in Ireland was the last to reach him.

The verdict on Redmond's influence in British politics must largely be left to the future, when the Irish question is finally settled. At present he appears as a man whose ideas and ideals had suffered by letting the spirit of their environment get far ahead of them.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Oakland should put forth a special effort to make the State encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which is to be held in this city next May, notable for the hospitality shown. Mayor Davie and the Chamber of Commerce already have signified their interest in this event and preparations will be started shortly to make the visit of the Grand Army men enjoyable. Everybody surely will co-operate to this end.

It is now fifty-three years since the Civil War came to an end, and the ranks of these veterans are rapidly dwindling. The unvarying inexorableness of time make it certain that within a few more short years the Civil War veteran will exist only in literature and the memory of younger men and women. Inasmuch as the annual encampment is held in a different city each year, next May will in all probability be the last opportunity to entertain the members of the Grand Army of the Republic Oakland will possess.

The presence of the venerable survivors of the war that resulted in the permanent preservation of the Union and decreed for all time that only democratic government shall exist in the Western Hemisphere, will be an inspiration to younger men and particularly to the youth of the community. We want them with us not only because we are grateful for what they did for the present and future generations, but because we need them to remind us that service to country has its immortal reward.

Not long ago a peevish citizen uttered a loud and long complaint because he could not obtain a passport for a foreign country without properly identifying himself to the State Department at Washington and establishing the fact beyond question that he was entitled to the use of an American passport. He made it appear that he had been greatly abused by an indifferent government that could not understand that his departure on the instant was important. Since then a far-reaching and serious passport fraud has been uncovered. At least 100 passports have been obtained through illegal methods and false representations for persons who were not entitled to them, a fact which creates the presumption that they will be used to the injury of the United States. Experience has convinced the government that it must be exceedingly careful in issuing passports, and persons who anticipate the need of these documents should arrange for them in advance if they would avoid embarrassment.

Dr. I. W. Howerth of the University of California

says that Germany prepared for forty years for the present war, producing a good, though not a superior, soldier and an inferior man. When the German people realize how vain has been this preparation and the fearful cost it has inflicted, they will probably start out to forget their misdirected preparation and to nurse back to life the finer things of humanity which their Prussianization blighted.

SECRETARY DANIELS TODAY.

The presence of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels in the reviewing stand as 10,000 soldiers marched by on Friday, as the government's representative at the parade, was fitting. Mr. Daniels today is recognized as a cabinet officer who has risen to a great emergency by preparing the navy for war. There has not been a reflection on the sea service since a state of war with Germany was declared, not even a suspicion of incompetence.

Secretary Daniels has claimed unprecedented achievements for the Navy Department, but not one of them has been challenged. When he says that the complement of ships has risen to 1000, including auxiliaries, submarine chasers and patrol boats; that the sailors are equipped to the last button; that of guns and ammunition there is no lack, but a surplus; that destroyers are going into the water in record time, and that Admiral Sims is doing great service with his flotilla in the "barred zone," there are people who ask: "Is this the Josephus Daniels whom everybody was abusing two years ago for naval deficiencies, and for not seeing the shadow of war that was cast far over the Atlantic, coming nearer every day?"

There was a transformation, it is true. But the fact is that Mr. Daniels was much underrated by his critics. Personal peculiarities, an unconventional way of saying and doing things, a certain crudeness of view sometimes, were magnified to his discredit. At heart he was sound, and his devotion to principle and duty was demonstrated. Perhaps he did not have vision, but he had common sense. It turned out that he had that supreme, and by no means common, gift of knowing the value of his advisers and trusting them. Also Secretary Daniels realized his own limitations, and was well aware that his knowledge of naval matters left a good deal to be desired. Anybody who takes the trouble to read the secretary's annual reports in 1914 and the succeeding years will see that he was growing into an able and responsible head of the navy. Anybody who reviews the careers of his lieutenants must conclude that he selected dependable and accomplished men and gave them a free hand.

Mr. Daniels is now known to be one of the most competent members of the cabinet. He was once rated as an unpopular talker by the service. Naval officers no longer talk about his temperamental unfitness for the post and smile at his hobbies, nor berate him for meddling with the morals of the navy. He has won favor in all ranks. He has become a fighting secretary, which is to say that he has become popular. —New York Times.

NOTES and COMMENT

One situation as to the income tax is that the people are more ready to pay it than they generally are to pay a tax, but do not know how and have difficulty in finding anybody who can tell them.

The news reaches us that the cabinet of Persia has resigned. This is important to those who knew that Persia had a cabinet.

The suggestion is worth considering that the designation of the corn product from which bread is made be changed from "corn meal" to "corn flour." It will take off that suggestion of animal food which is more definitely recognized in foreign countries than this. They have not been in the habit of recognizing what we call corn, more often called abroad American maize, as human food.

We must realize what a plight such a country as Rumania is in. If she remains steadfast and refuses to knuckle to the great bullying powers that have her at their mercy, her people will prove themselves of that sterner stuff of which the Belgians furnish such a glorious example.

Here is something new. A man is fined $50 for throwing a monkey-wrench at a dog. There is no law justifying such act. Though the man may have had provocation, he must consider that the law considers the dog. In our intensive civilization the law sometimes seems to be overconsiderate, however.

It is a serious thing to indulge in unpatriotic talk. A sergeant at an Eastern cantonment declared that if put in charge of a force in the battle zone he would surrender to the Germans. They let him off with only a thirty-year sentence.

It is rather humiliating that it should be considered necessary to warn the public against attorneys who watch the papers for casualties to American soldiers and then seek their relatives for employment in collecting the insurance. Any such interference is not necessary, and the authorities are doing their best to make this fact generally known.

The wedding-out process indicates that the army is being put on a basis of efficiency never before approached. Surgeons, for instance, are no longer of the somewhat easy status of former times. That since this country's entrance in the war 1050 commissions in the medical staffs have been revoked attests this fact.

It is found that the income tax affects poker players. The fact that poker games are for the most part already under the ban of the municipality where they may be attempted is beside the matter. Anybody winning at poker will incur liabilities from the government if caught at it without dividing his profits with Uncle Sam.

That soap-box statesmanship is not of the enduring kind has again been demonstrated. Russia has had a considerable experience with it and can hardly be in a position to recommend it.

The war has done another thing that otherwise would not have been done: Caused to be stricken out of the manual of instruction for the Medical Advisory Boards having charge of draft proceedings the clause, "The foreign born, especially the Jews, are more apt to malingering than the native born." Evidently it is being found that commendable loyalty is found where it has hitherto been looked for.

It is settled now that government control of the railroads will persist twenty-one months after the war. That will afford plenty of time in which to determine what to do next.

SPRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Some one whose soul is bubbling over with conservatism announces triumphantly that the eggs of the crocodile are good to eat. The idea being, presumably, that we will all hustle out immediately and stock up with a few crocodiles to keep in the backyard. —Santa Rosa Republican.

We have had our spasm about whale meat and seal meat is coming next. A complete cannery for the packing of seal meat is to be established at the Pribiloff seal islands. This year, for the first time since 1910, there will be unrestricted killing of seals by the government and it is expected that about 35,000 will be slaughtered. —San Luis Obispo Tribune.

Akron, Ohio, boasts of a recreation park of fifty acres. Ventura can beat it easily in its Seaside Park here, which contains sixty-five acres and has a river running through it. It is true this park is not strictly a city park and for the reason that it is owned by the county, but it is the better for that. The sea laps the park on one side, and that is another over the Akron park. —Ventura Free Press.

A. B. Paul, the pioneer shoemaker at 414 West Fourth street, read an item in the Blade in regard to walrus hide, and then brought the editor a sample of that very same. The hide is fully a half-inch thick and is the last of a quantity for which Mr. Paul made a trade some time ago. —Santa Ana Blade.

The sentiment of the people of the city and county could be measured last evening by their response to Governor Stephens' declaration that the war must be fought to a victory and that the commander of the army and navy must be supported. Those declarations brought handclaps from every man and woman, and so did a third one that "we have forgotten party in this great crisis." Contrast that sentiment with the one that calls for "party organization" in order to win an election this fall. Governor Stephens is not on a political tour, but he could voice no more popular expressions than those quoted, none more likely to commend him to the people of California. —Eurekafield Californian (Democratic).

THE INCOME TAX

Depreciation—How to Figure It.

As the rate at which depreciation may be claimed is dependent, in a greater or less extent, upon local conditions, the use to which the property is put and its probable lifetime under normal business conditions, no specific rates at which it may be claimed have ever been established. The law states that a "reasonable allowance" may be claimed, and it is for the taxpayer to determine what constitutes a "reasonable allowance." To compute the amount which may be claimed a taxpayer should determine the probable lifetime of the property, then divide its cost to him by the number of years it will be usable in a business in which employed, and the result thus obtained will represent the amount which may be claimed each year as a deduction, e. g. a frame building, the probable lifetime of which, without repair or replacement, is 25 years, cost $5000. Divide $5000 by 25 and claim $200 each year as depreciation.

While each taxpayer must determine the probable lifetime of his property without regard to the following figures, it has been estimated that the average usable lifetime of a frame building is 25 years, a brick building 35 years, a stone building or a steel and concrete building 50 to 100 years. The estimated lifetime of ordinary machinery is 10 years, that of automobiles used for business or farm purposes and farm tractors four to five years.

If a taxpayer wishes to claim the full amount of depreciation estimated to have occurred in the value of a building or other property used for business or trade purposes he may do so, but this precludes his claiming a deduction to cover any amount expended during the same year in making repairs. If he wishes to claim a deduction on account of repairs their cost must be deducted from the full amount of depreciation and the balance may then be claimed as a deduction under the heading of "Depreciation"—that is, if the taxpayer expends $100 in making repairs to a building which will depreciate in value $200 during the calendar year, he may claim $100 as a business expense and $100 as depreciation, or he may claim $200 as depreciation and nothing for repairs. In short, the aggregate deductions claimed on account of repairs and depreciation must not exceed the full amount of depreciation estimated to have occurred.

[Note—The repairs referred to in this paragraph are such as are general in character, representing replacements, etc. Small items, such as replacement of broken window panes, papering, minor repairs, etc., are allowable, even though full amount of depreciation has been claimed.]

In claiming depreciation the following fundamental principles must be taken into consideration:

(a) Only such depreciation as results from exhaustion, wear and tear of property arising out of its use or employment in business or trade can be claimed. Depreciation in the value of a home or any article of property, such as automobiles used for personal pleasure or convenience, cannot be claimed; the property must be used for the purpose of producing income.

(b) Depreciation other than that arising from wear and tear, such as a lessening of value due to changes in the social or business conditions in the neighborhood in which a property is located, changes of street grade or fluctuations in market values, etc., cannot be claimed.

(c) Depreciation in the value of land, whether improved or unimproved, due to ordinary erosion, exhaustion or any other cause, cannot be claimed.

(d) Where, in the course of years, the owner of property has claimed its full cost as depreciation in his income tax returns, no further claim will be allowed.

(e) The value to be cared for by depreciation is the actual amount invested in the property and not the value which may be arbitrarily or otherwise fixed.

NEW TRIBUNE BUILDING SOON READY

Work is humming in the new TRIBUNE building at Thirtieth and Franklin streets and the prospects are bright for the date of moving being set this month. The work of installing telephones was commenced today; job printing equipment was being moved into the new job printing department which is to occupy the entire sixth floor; the great tower clock is being put in place, and also the electric lettering on the high TRIBUNE tower surrounding the building, and painters were at work washing the exterior of the structure with acid preparatory to repainting the building.

The work on the exterior of the building will commence immediately. The new TRIBUNE building is a reinforced concrete structure, the exterior being of pressed brick. The brick surfaces will be thoroughly cleaned with acid. The window frames and other projections will be painted a light color. As soon as the painters have completed their work there will be a general refurbishing of the interior of the building.

While this work is under way the painters and interior decorators are completing the interior finishing in the business office and editorial department. The marble work in the main business office has been finished, and it will be only a matter of a few days before it will be possible to begin to install some of the furnishings.

PLACE SHELVEING.
Metal shelving for the new TRIBUNE library was being placed today, and will soon be ready to receive the thousands of envelopes of photographs, zinc half-tone cuts, newspaper and magazine clippings and books. After the library furnishing and equipment is completed, and the date for moving has been set, some of the lesser used reference works and sections of the library will be moved to a new building as close as possible to the new building.

The task of finding room for 240 lockers for the TRIBUNE employees in the new building has just been worked out. Every employee in the new building is to have an individual locker, each with a different lock, and key, in which he may

"Damn the Torpedoes"

Herman Whitaker
writes of life aboard
destroyers of Uncle Sam.

By HERMAN WHITAKER, Author of "The Phantom," "Over the Border," "The Settler," Etc.
"Faugh-a-ballagh, the Dublin boys are here,
Faugh-a-ballagh, just listen to them cheer:
We will carry on till the last one is gone
And even then we will come again."
Just to help the boys along
By singing Faugh-a-ballagh,
Somebody's teacher "Faugh-a-ballagh, an' b' gab
We know just who—
We'll march right through like the Irish Always do—
When they sing Faugh-a-ballagh in the morning!"

"Faugh-a-ballagh" is the Celtic for clear the way.

When General Byrd smashed through the Hindenburg lines with his tanks the Irish boys of his division went into the battle to the tune of this new battle hymn of the trenches.

When Farragut shouted his famous order from the shrouds of his ship at Mobile he meant practically the same thing as the Irish boys did when they sang "Faugh-a-ballagh" when they drove the wedge into the lines which the Germans claimed could never be broken through.

Farragut at Mobile, when he shouted "Damn the torpedoes" could not foresee that he was establishing a precedent which, fifty years later, was to become the ordinary every-day
watchword of another American fleet.
Between the "torpedoes" of Farragut

"Faugh-a Ballagh"

Tribune correspondent with America's forces in France tells tale of sea.

Let us share with our own American officers and men.

Having seen the first of the boats that were torpedoed, and talked with members of her crew, and having cruised, as I said before, in company with the boat that was sunk, I can claim to be in better position to pass judgment than the author of the editorial quote, and the facts are these:

Let us take the last first, recreate as well as we can the picture of what actually happened from the official reports of her commander and crew.
She and other destroyers were returning to their base after delivering a convoy at a foreign port; but as she had paused to carry out target practice at sea, the others were out of sight ahead. Imagine her, that graceful ful boat, careening as she swung on the turns of her zig-zag course at standard speed, officers on the bridge, watches set, crew in their berths below, or smoking on deck, all things following their orderly bent. At 4:30 p. m. dusk was already falling in those winter seas. It would be impossible to see the finger periscope that was probably slipped up just long enough to sight the shot. First notice came when the officer on the bridge saw the torpedo coming at the editor's "leisurely speed" of forty-two miles an hour.

DEATH MESSENGER
SPEEDS ON WAY.
He did the right thing—fanned the helm "hard left" and rang the engine room for "emergency high speed." As the boat leaped under the sudden hard thrust of the screws and began to swing like a scared thing, he could see the red warhead of the torpedo as it "porpoised" along the surface, leaping and ready to wave. Once it was clean out of the water and swerved and he thought it might pass astern.
But the instant it dived again the deviation automatically corrected. It struck a trifle off of amidships and

SALOON MEN RELEASED BY EXPLANATION

Oakland, Alameda, San Francisco and adjacent community saloonmen, who were protestors by the announcement from Washington that the order of Secretary Daniels prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within five miles of naval training stations would make whole sections of these communities homeless, expressed relief today to learn that only certain naval training stations were specified. Last night's TRIBUNE was the only Oakland newspaper printing a correct version of Secretary Daniels' order, which excepted Goat Island from the ruling.

Marine Island navy yard, the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and training stations at Great Lakes, Ill.; Newport, R. I.; Norfolk, and Port Royal, S. C., are the only places affected by the order. This makes Vallejo home dry immediately.
Secretary Daniels having already signed the long-expected order which places the prohibitory mandate in effect.

CLOSE 40 PLACES.
The establishment of the five mile zone around Marine Island Navy Yard means that forty places in Vallejo in which liquor is sold will have to stop selling whisky, wine, beer or any other alcoholic beverage, the city of Vallejo having about 40 saloons, twenty-two saloons, nine restaurants, five clubs, three wholesale liquor establishments and one hotel without bar.

Among the places that will be affected outside of the city of Vallejo are James Collins' road house at Collins Station in Napa county, M. P. Coronado's road house at Flossien, Rice One-Mile House, Thomas Higgins' saloon opposite the One-
Mile House, the Vallejo Blue Rock Springs, Vallejo Hotel Park, Glen Cove Hotel, Len Higgins' saloon, House on the Benicia road, and a number of residents in Contra Costa county that are within five miles of the navy yard.

At least fifty-two Contra Costa county saloons will be closed by the government order, and probably more, according to County Surveyor R. R. Arnold of that county. Arnold declares that if the five-mile circle is drawn with its center at the government pierhead, it will close the entire town of Pinole, but if the center is the navy yard boundary half the town may still be wet. He declares that the order closes Rodeo, Concord and Searby to saloons.

MUST REFUND.
Mayor James Toney of Vallejo estimated that the city could not have to refund over $3600 to persons who will be forced out of business and that next year the sum of $11,000 will have to be secured by taxation to make up for the loss in revenue occasioned through the closing of the saloons. This means an increase of tax on the city.

As in the case of the army camp zones exceptions of private homes where liquor is served to residents of those homes in a bona fide manner, are made in the Daniels' order. Army and navy officers, besides the revenue service, congressmen and other supposed to know were harassed by inquiries from perturbed liquor men all day yesterday, anxious to know whether or not bay district saloons also had to cease operation.

A five-mile compass-drawn circle with center at the navy yard training station as center would have made a prohibition community out of most of the bay district.

According to Perry Haviland, Alameda county surveyor, the circle would embrace practically all of the business section of Oakland, including a strip of Alameda between the cross Adeline street at about Fifty-seventh, Grove between Thirtieth and Apsar, and Telegraph at about Thirtieth. The Hotel Oakland and the St. Mark's Hotel would be the only two hotels in the city outside of the charmed circle of local authorities to correct the local evils attendant upon the sale of liquor in the various communities affected by the order is the reason given out by Secretary Daniels as the underlying purpose of the restriction. This is the conditions, according to Washington information, at Vallejo and San Francisco.

In regard to the Vallejo situation Daniels said:

"A determined effort has been made by the department and the commandant at Mare Island to cause an improvement in the liquor situation at Vallejo, but the action of the local authorities in the wishes of the department have been stubbornly opposed by those interested in the continuance of this evil. No remedial results of any nature have been accomplished."

sank before he could reach them.
Eight minutes after the torpedo struck she sank. But in that eight minutes—listen to what was done.

First picture the scene, imagine the debris flying high in the air, the crash of falling masts, the stupor of successive explosions; the men lying dead and dying about the decks, some floating in the water; the pall of smoke and escaping steam! Now, what was done? The sun crews stood to their guns in readiness for a shot at the submarine. An auxiliary engine was rigged on to the lighting system and a wireless improvised in a vain effort to send out a low-power
S. O. S. The life rafts were launched —the boats, alas, were unmoored. The splinter mat that protect the bridge from shrapnel fire, huge mattresses five feet square, were cut away and thrown overboard with the life buoys to uphold struggling swimmers. The effort to rig up a wireless failing for lack of time the guns were repeatedly fired to attract attention. When she began to sink her bows rose almost perpendicular while she twisted a half circle, but just before that the commander had run along the deck ordering everybody into the water.
As she sank he stepped off himself into the sea.

DISCIPLINE NEVER FORGOTTEN A MOMENT
While there, swimming for his life, shaken by the loss of his ship, stupefied by the tremendous concussion and surrounded by his dead and drowning men, the habit of discipline was still so strong, his spirit so fine, that he took accurate note of the submarine when she popped up out of the water. Listen to this—from a man who could see at that moment nothing but slow drowning ahead:

"The submarine approached within 600 yards, picked up one survivor, then submerged again. It appeared to be between 150 and 200 feet long. It carried a three-inch gun forward of the conning tower and the periscopes.

GERMANS SINK 1113 VESSELS IN PAST 53 WEEKS

LONDON, March 7.—Eighteen British ships sunk by German submarines last week brought the total of English vessels lost during the past fifty-three weeks up to 1113. It was estimated today.

Of the ships sent down during the past seven days, twelve were over 1600 tons and six were of less tonnage.

Over 2000 British merchant-ships arrived at British ports during the week.

SHIPBUILDERS TO BE ENTERTAINED

Shipbuilders employed on the three big vessels to be launched next Thursday at the Moore shipyards will be the guests of the shipyard, the city and the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night, when a ball will be given in the Municipal Auditorium in their honor.

There were 5100 men employed on the three ships. After the launching a holiday will be declared for these men for the rest of the month by the shipbuilding firm, this culminating at the evening affair.

Acts from local theaters and patriotic addresses will be features of a program in honor of the men, and Anabelle Jones,
"The Girl of the Year," will sing. The Municipal Auditorium has been wired for special endorsement of the affair.

NESBITT TO TALK
"Beautiful France in Peace and War" will be the subject of a lecture tonight by Dr. Norman H. Nesbitt of San Francisco, speaking in the Claremont school, College avenue and Birch court. This is one of the school department free lectures and is held tonight instead of the usual Friday night date.

Dr. Nesbitt prefers to treat his subject with the least possible of formality and the utmost of unadorned personal experience. He was a Sor-bonne student and brought up in Paris. His lantern slides will make real to us such familiar names as Arnas, Rinas, Rouen, as they were before the war, and as they appear today. Paris and the life of the Latin Quarter, as well as Versailles, will be interpreted in the light of personal experience. The lecture includes also glimpses of medieval Carcassonne and the fashionable watering places of the Riviera.

NOTED SPEAKERS
Frederick Koster, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and John A. McGregor, president of the Union Iron Works, will be the speakers at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce to be held at the Hotel Oakland on the evening of March 14. Members from Alameda and Contra Costa counties will be present.

ROXEY MIDDLETON TO BE FIELD CAPTAIN OF 1918 OAKS

PERCY AND FERDIE---Like the Waves, They Rise and Fall.

By H. A. MacGILL

Creator of the Hall-Room Boys

St. Mary's Phoenix and Camp Fremont Added to Spring Training Games

Harry Krause Back in Camp and Revives His Quartet of Serenaders

Speed Martin to Report at Camp; Oak's Pitching Staff Well Fixed

"Speed" Martin will be at the Boyes Springs training camp by the first of next week. The boys who were beginning to figure that "Speed" would stage another holdout stunt the same as he did last year will have to find something else to talk about, for "Speed" has agreed to report at camp. He was not satisfied at first with his contract, but the differences were settled and now "Speed" is preparing to report to the Oaks.

"Happy" Goodbred is on his way from his home in Florida and will be on hand by the first of next week. Sammy Beer will probably stick to his job in Arcata, Mendocino county. But with the exception of Beer, the Oaks have all of their 1917 pitchers back—Martin, Krause, Prough, Goodbred and Kremer. With Mickey Shuler, Gene Caldera, Coleman and Lockhart to draw from to round out this staff, the Oaks start with a pitching staff that is easily the best in the league.

Sunday afternoon the Oaks will have their first regular game of the training season when they meet Duffy Lewis' naval reserves at Boyes Springs. The following Sunday a team of Oakland all-stars will go up from Oakland to do battle with Manager Howard's men. The exact make-up of the all-stars is not given out as yet, but McCreery and Ross or Bliss will probably form the battery, with Monty Pyl on first, Quigley second, Cramer third, Conger short and Dunn, Hayes and Fleiger in the outfield.

BOYES SPRINGS, March 7.—As ice predicted, things have taken on a more natural appearance with the arrival of Harry Krause and the formation of the Krause Annual Spring Serenaders. "Back" Miller, "Chicken" Hawks and "Admiral" Clayton are Krause's fellow conspirators.

The squad today absorbed two tables in Frank Klein's dining room so that it has at last assumed respectable proportions. The new arrivals are "Hert" Krause, Ray Kremer, Danny Murray and Harvey Christensen, a recruit third baseman. Roxey Middleton will be captain of the Oaks this year. Del Howard announced today. This is a reward for flat rock's consistent work with the team since 1914. Outside of Rube Gardner, Roxey is the veteran of the club in point of service.

Duffy Lewis' Camp Fremont team has written for a game here with the Oaks and they will probably get the afternoon date on Saturday, March 16. The same day, Roxey Middleton will lead a team of Oak Yarnegans to Crockett for a game with the sugar barons. St. Mary's College is booked for Wednesday afternoon, March 13. The first game will be next Sunday with the Duffy Lewis naval reserves at Boyes Springs. The following Sunday, March 17, Oakland excursionists will make the trip here to root for a team of Oakland "All-Stars."

St. Mary's registered from the Agnew State Hospital but explained that he had been a guard there during the winter, not a patient. The following Sunday, March 17, Oakland excursionists will make the trip here to root for a team of Oakland "All-Stars."

Ray Kremer has had a nice rest this winter and looks in the shape of a champion. He is a little misleading, however, as he is on the suspended list of the Oakland Club and has been told how he can restore himself to favor. It is up to him now.

Del Howard is not worrying any over the middle sack problem. He believes that "Pop" Arlett is improving every day and that his participation in the winter league has developed speed and fielding ability to an extent that will surprise the fans. Arlett's work with the stick has also improved and Howard thinks the young man will be the best second-sacker in the league this year.

Four Knockouts on Association Slate

Soldier Gorske could not last two rounds in the main event of the Association Club boxing card across the bay last night. Fred Rudst put over a knockout blow in the second round and it was all over. The other bouts on the card resulted as follows:

Al Ward knocked out Toby Owens in the fourth.

Anderson won over Soldier Jim Commons.

Sailor Swigert won the decision over Joe Coffey.

Paul Castro stopped Charlie Belgium in the third.

Eddie Shafer and Al Walker boxed to a draw.

Johnny Garcia stopped Al Remy in the second after the referee had called a halt.

Tub Spencer May Be Catcher for Seals

DETROIT, March 7.—"Pep" Young, second baseman of the Detroit Americans, has signed his 1918 contract, it was announced today. Catcher Spencer, it is reported, may obtain a position with a Pacific Coast League club, probably San Francisco.

McHenry Stars When Berkeley Beats Fremont

Husky Left-Handed Pitcher Is Too Much for Eddie Brennan's Boys.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The 1918 Alameda County High School baseball season was ushered in at Bay View playgrounds yesterday afternoon when the Berkeley team put over a 3 to 1 win on Fremont. The game was called after the seventh inning and everyone was satisfied, as it was anything but a good day for baseball, with dark skies and a cold wind making it unpleasant.

McHenry was the big star in Berkeley's win. Besides pitching a three-hit game against Fremont and fanning 13 of the batters, he crashed out two hits himself that helped in the run scoring, and crossed the plate two times.

McHenry is a husky left-hander who pitched for the Berkeley team last season and he had the Fremont boys completely baffled. It was not until the final inning that they put over their only run when Combs singled to left and then swung at a wild third strike and was safe. An error and another wild pitch by McHenry allowed Combs to slide into the rubber and the game closed with Huelston and Kimuri fanning.

Arnold started in the box for Fremont and pitched a hitless game. He was hit by a line drive after the seventh inning, but the Berkeley team had piled up 3 runs or four hits, a wild pitch and a couple of passed balls by Wilson. John Tate was sent in to pitch in the third and showed that he was nervous by walking the first batter and cutting loose with a wild pitch. With Daniels on third, Tate tried to catch him off and threw with no one covering the bag and Daniels scored. The next inning saw McHenry open with a triple over the right fielder's head, and he scored when Cochrane drove a hard bouncer past a hit.

Tate settled down after this and held the Berkeley team from scoring any more runs, but the pitching of McHenry for Berkeley was too much for the Fremont boys. They were unable to do much hitting to help in overcoming the lead.

Berkeley had a good ball club and figures to give Technical a good game when it comes time for them to meet. Coach Hodges' boys showed that they are a team, and they showed a couple of faults in running the bases, which they can soon overcome.

McHenry is a star and a star at second base. He is the leading star for the winners.

An inter-club track meet of the Berkeley High was scheduled for this afternoon at the University field, but the rain of last night has caused a postponement.

Pigeon Service for "Tribune" Readers on Next Marine Game

Baseball fans interested in the game at Sacramento Saturday between Rube Gardner's Oakland team and the Sacramento Coast League club will be able to take advantage of a special "TRIBUNE" pigeon service. The Marine recruiting office found the pigeon service such a success in the University of California game last Saturday that it will be used at all games in this part of the state hereafter.

The pigeons will be taken to Sacramento in a Hudson Speedster, driven by Jones, manager of the Hudson interest in this district. This is one of the cars that holds the Oakland to New York and return record. Pigeons will be released at various points along the route and at the game in Sacramento the pigeons will be released with messages of good wishes to the team.

This information will be transmitted to the "TRIBUNE" office and will be available to any who desire to know how the game is going.

Dog Owner Issues Challenge for Race

John D. Cronin, owner of the Freter, will challenge in Polyneus in a coming race near Dixon last month, has issued a challenge for a special match race between the two dogs. Cronin says that the operators at last month's match seemed to be of the majority opinion that the decision in favor of Freter really won the race, 2 to 1. John D. Cronin, 48, Seventy street, Oakland, challenges Ray Avery, owner of Polyneus, to a match race to be held at the Elliot ranch near Sacramento for a side bet of from $100 to $500.

Cronin's only win on the challenge is a proviso that there shall be a different judge man in the last race, the judge and slipper to be named by the owners of the two dogs.

Piedmont Merchants to Have Fast Team

Harry Keller, who will manage the Piedmont Merchants this summer, had out a number of boys for work on Sunday, and indications are that he will have a fast team in the field this summer. The players who performed and showed up best were: McDermott at short; Pop Grandison at third; Rush at second; and Hanson in leftfield.

He has also signed two new men in Bert Brown of Pittsburgh last season, and Frank Anderson, an infielder. Brown is a power utility player, and Anderson is a hard.

Next Sunday, Keller will have his team out for a match race to be held at the Elliot ranch near Sacramento for a side bet of from $100 to $500.

Pasadena Pitcher for Portland Team

PORTLAND, Ore., March 7.—Manager McGredie has signed Dick Mitchell, right-hander of the Pasadena team, for the Portland team in the P. C. L. this year and thinks he has picked a winner. Mitchell is said to have a record of 34 strikeouts in the last two games in which he worked.

Manager Bezdek of the Pirates will have plenty of material from which to choose his batting order. There are 31 men on the club's roster.

Shipyard Boys To Raise Funds For Clubhouse

Oakland and Alameda Recreation Departments to Aid Association.

Recreation department workers of Oakland and Alameda will co-operate with the newly organized Shipyard's Athletic Association. Jay E. Nash of the Oakland department and A. C. Denton of the Alameda department have been named as the club's president and secretary, respectively. Both have promised their assistance in every way possible to help make the new organization a success in the athletic and social activity which it is planning to make life more worth while for the men who are doing their bit in the shipyards around the bay.

Nash has furnished a list of all the playgrounds that are available in Oakland and Alameda and will advise the association of arrangements that can be made for the use of grounds in Alameda. Of course, the shipyard boys want eventually to play on enclosed grounds where they can charge admission and raise funds for the advancement of the association. But until the teams get a start the enclosed grounds may not be available. Also there will be no other line of sports for which the playgrounds will come in handy even after the baseball season has secured their enclosed grounds.

Co-operation in the matter of grounds with the city and county is being sought. Both have promised their aid in next Tuesday night's big sport carnival program, at the Auditorium. Nash in particular has had considerable experience in staging athletic events in the Auditorium, and his help will be of particular value to the shipyard boys who want to make a big success of their first venture. The proceeds of Tuesday night's carnival will go to equipping baseball grounds for the various teams, and a fund will also be started for the erection of a big clubhouse that will be for the exclusive use of the shipbuilders around the bay.

Boxing will be but one of the features on Tuesday night's program. There will be nine boxing bouts with boys from one yard boxing to boys from other yards; there will be a wrestling bout, and also a musical feature and music by the Union Iron Works jazz band. Tickets will be on sale by tomorrow; the fifty-cent gallery and music will be fifty cents. It will be the price downstairs.

A meeting of the committee handling the arrangements for the snow at the Auditorium will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at Spaulding's fan room, at 8 o'clock.

Stockton Shows Interest in League With Upper Bay Towns

Working Agreement of Independent Clubs Will Have Support of Five Leagues

By CARL E. BRAZIER.

Stockton would be a heavy drain on transportation, but would be a good enough drawing card all over the circuit to make it a good team in an east bay summer baseball league; Modesto would be a still bigger drain on expenses and would not be a good drawing card in any of the Contra Costa towns. That opinion expressed by Otto Dietrich, manager of the Richmond club, seems to win the sentiment of all the Contra Costa managers, and the proposal to extend an invitation to Modesto to join a league with Pittsburg, Richmond, Crockett, Martinez and Stockton, will probably be forgotten.

Several of the league boosters have questioned the advisability of even stretching out the league circuit so far as to include Stockton, but the general sentiment through Pittsburg, Crockett, Martinez and Richmond seems to be in favor of taking in Stockton. Representatives of the Sperry Flour Company have shown considerable interest in the proposed chain of baseball leagues as covered in the movement started by The TRIBUNE.

Second season representatives want a little more done on the plans and Otto Dietrich and the sporting editor of The TRIBUNE are today visiting in Stockton to work up enthusiasm for a delegation from that city to be on hand at tomorrow night's meeting at Spaulding's Fan Room, 414 Post street.

The Contra Costa towns are figuring on this being election year, for the political candidates are always good baseball boosters and when one candidate starts a subscription for the support of the club, there are always many more to follow. It may be war-time, but it is also election year, and the baseball promoters are sure to work up enthusiasm for a delegation from that city to be on hand at tomorrow night's meeting at Spaulding's Fan Room, 414 Post street.

With Stockton already interested it seems a safe bet that that city will get into the league, for outside of a Modesto possibility there seems to be little baseball interest being shown in the section that Stockton would naturally pick for a league. Fruitvale and Alameda have elected to go into the Alameda County league, but the Oakland natives, Maxwell Hardware and Ratto's Commission Merchants figure to have teams fast enough to stand the pace of the Contra Costa and Stockton teams.

Thus an eight club league will still be possible despite the withdrawal of Fruitvale and Alameda, as possibilities for new line up of teams would be as follows: Richmond, Crockett, Pittsburg, Martinez,

Fast Games on Baseball Card Next Sunday

Fruitvale and San Leandro Lots Will Be Scenes of the Best Battles.

Unless Jupiter Pluvius sticks in this neighborhood for the next few days, the fans on the east side of the bay will get their usual share of Sunday baseball games, with The TRIBUNE Stars meeting the Moore Shipyard team at Fruitvale, and San Leandro and Fruitvale playing the deciding game of their series at San Leandro. Graduate Manager McNamara is trying to arrange a game at St. Mary's college for the Young Phoenix team, in the absence of the first team, which will be over at San Francisco meeting the Camp Fremont All-Army team at Recreation park. The Oakland Commission Merchants, a fast team, will be out for their first regular game of the season, while the champion Melrose Merchants will entertain some team at Alameda. Further east in the county the second league Merchants, reinforced by several new players will meet Niles in the deciding game of the season at that town.

The work of getting together a TRIBUNE team to meet the Moore Shipyard at Fruitvale has been completed as soon as two more players are lined up. The TRIBUNE will not have to worry about pitchers, with "Buz" and Dick Arlett of the Alameda and Cherry Woods of the Grays and Art Ponsers of the Santa Fe Improvers ready to go on the mound to shoot them out. Joe Tobin and his shipyard team are expected to be out for other positions in the field, and if they are not all seen in the box they will probably be seen elsewhere. The other players lined up are Johnny Paulino, Ray Conger, Herb Rummer, John Britt, Abe Price, Al Midwinter league players, Rudy Merriam, "Tiney" Hurston and Dutch Holbrook.

The TRIBUNE team to beat the Moore Shipyard club. The complete line-up for The TRIBUNE will be announced tomorrow.

FINAL GAME AT SAN LEANDRO

With the game at San Leandro the final one of the series between San Leandro and Fruitvale, there is more interest in the game than in any other. It will decide the semifinals of the county championship, and like last Sunday, the game will be played at Fruitvale. The other players lined up are Johnny Paulino, Ray Conger, Herb Rummer, John Britt, Abe Price, Al Midwinter league players, Rudy Merriam, "Tiney" Hurston and Dutch Holbrook.

OH! THAT AWFUL BACKACHE IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

An unhealthy body, and the unhappiness and misery which follow, may be prevented by ordinary judgment and care. Keep your stomach and kidneys in shape and you will have good health. The kidney work is to throw off the poisonous matters which enter the body. If they perform this work regularly and automatically the other organs will take care of themselves.

Disturbed conditions of the bladder or kidneys are indicated by nervousness, sleeplessness, that tired, worn-out feeling, dizziness, pain in the lower abdomen, many so-called "female troubles," severe pain and discomfort when urinating, bloody, cloudy and stringy urine, too frequent or suppressed passages. All these are nature's signals to warn you of diseased kidneys or bladder, which may lead to fatal Bright's disease.

Don't wait until the danger is upon you. Get to work at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haverhill Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Haverhill Oil, the kind your doctor would prescribe. They will cure you of all kidney troubles. Money refunded if they do not help you. But remember to ask for GOLD MEDAL Haverhill Oil Capsules in sealed packages. Advertisement.

$100,000 For Willard-Fulton Title Battle

New Orleans Promoter Expects to Sign Up Championship Fight Next Week.

By JACK VIELOCK, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Jess Willard and Fred Fulton may be matched to meet for the world's heavyweight championship early next week.

In a telegram received today by the International News Service, Dominick Tortorich, the New Orleans promoter, expressed hope of closing the match with Willard, who is expected to visit the Crescent City in a few days. Fulton is ready to fight at any time.

The telegram follows: "My offer to Jess Willard for a world's championship battle with Fred Fulton for a purse of $100,000 has not been turned down."

"I have heard nothing definite from Willard, but I feel sure that he will be able to come to terms when he arrives here the early part of next week. I am satisfied that Willard is perfectly sincere in his offer to box for the championship and I believe the match will be closed within a few days."

(Signed) "DOMINICK TORTORICH."

The offer made by Tortorich for a battle between Willard and Fulton is the second largest in the history of pugilism, the one except being the $100,000 purse hung up by Tex Rickard for the Jeffries-Johnson battle at Reno.

When the racing season closes at Havana, Hans Lobert, who is working there, will return to coach the West Point baseball team.

BASKETBALL NOTES

A new basketball league, which will be known as the Bay Counties Association, is being formed by Joe Mullins, connected with the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. Thomas de Nike of the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. and Ed Penahua, well known F. A. A. referee. No definite plans have been arranged, but teams from the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. and San Francisco Y. M. C. A. and San Francisco Y. M. C. A. have already consented to enter several teams in the tournament.

The Naval Training Station 130-pound basketball team went down to defeat Tuesday night at the hands of the 110-pound Willard five, 40 to 22. At half-time the score stood 19 to 7 in favor of the Willards. Burton and Schneider starred for the winners, while Blanchard put up a fine game for the jacks.

Charles McDonald, member of the Olympic club, 130-pound basketball team, champion of California for the last four years, will leave Saturday morning for San Pedro, where he will report to the naval reserve.

VALLEJO, March 7.—At the present time there are two girls' basketball teams in this section of the State that can boast of an unbroken string of victories during the present season, one of them the Vallejo Girls and the other the Castagna High School maidens. But after March 22 one of these clubs will have a defeat marked upon its record, as arrangements have been completed for a championship contest between the undefeated teams. The Castagna girls have won eight straight games, their last victory being registered over the Stanford University lassies, who were defeated by a score of 29 to 10.

The girls from the head of the Napa Valley are coached by Miss Heron, one of the best players ever turned out at Stanford, and it is likely that she will get into the game against the local girls. In order that her team may be the best of shape for the championship game Miss Marie Rose of the Vallejo girls has arranged for a contest with the Martinez girls on March 15, the match to be staged at the Baraca gymnasium in this city.

The Oakland Pathfinders club 130-pound team defeated the Perkins club of the Deaf and Dumb school of Berkeley Monday evening by a score of 26 to 27. Traylor starred. The lineup of the winners: J. Traylor, L. Cise, forwards; T. Mola, center; L. Dwyer, S. Henriksen, guards; Hap, Lewis, substitute.

Two Coursing Meets On St. Patrick's Day

An eight-dog handicap will be the feature of the coursing meet to be held by the Capital City Coursing Club on St. Patrick's day, March 17, at Sacramento. William McNamara will act as judge. The Yolo and Solano Club will hold a sixteen-dog all-are stakes and a sixteen-dog all-are stakes near Dixon on the same day. Roy Avery has decided against entering his winning greyhound Polybeus, in any meet until the California stake in November. In the Dixon meet four purses will be offered in each stake. Lee Johnson will be judge.

Atkin and Coffroth Have Bought Circus

Jack Atkin and Jim Coffroth have bought a circus; that is the word sent to day friends by Leon Wing, former transbay newspaperman, who says that he is associated with Atkin and Coffroth in the venture which may put them in a class with Jess Willard. But more important than that in pay sports interest is the probability that this circus story will put the crusher on the stories that were going around that Jack Atkin was the financial power behind Charles Graham and his associates in purchasing the Sox from Henry Berry.

Baseball Will Soon Be Pastime at St. Joseph's School

It is only a matter of a few weeks now when baseball will be the chief recreation for the boys at St. Joseph's Academy in Berkeley. Already the youngsters have taken up the national game for the 1918 season, and there is promise of more baseball being played at the academy this season than in any other. Brother Sebastian, who is a big booster for athletics among the boys, had out quite a few players for the first practice game of the season, and looks for the institution to again be represented by some fast teams.

At least four teams are formed out of the academy each year, and last season the boys had their best season of all. They won the bigger number of their games, and found it hard to get away from them to play them as they wished. But this year they should not find very much trouble in getting them, as there are quite a few young teams which will be playing ball during the summer.

Basketball is at present holding more interest from the academy boys, but the season for playing the indoor game is just about coming to a close. The teachers of the institution are highly pleased with the basketball games, which the teams have played, and in particular with the work of the Young Midgets, who recently won to Sacramento and won the state title. The boys are to be congratulated by devoting the team of the Christian Brothers' college of the capital city.

BILLY WHELAN WINS. BAYLOR, March 7.—Billy Whelan, St. Paul lightweight, today held a victory over Alie Naeck, recent conqueror of Willie Jackson, following their ten-round bout last night here. Whelan tried hard for a knockout, but Naeck was too rugged.

SOLDIERS DEFEAT ST. MARV'S. The Presidio 65d company ball team trimmed St. Mary's yesterday on the Presidio grounds, 11 to 8. Ingersoll's pitching for the soldiers featured the contest. Ingersoll and Snow made up the battery for the soldiers while Neugent and King performed for the Oakland collections.

The Schafhirt Roofless plate is the most sanitary, comfortable and satisfactory plate that years of study and skill can possibly devise.

In modern dentistry there is no class of work calling for such a combination of mechanical and artistic skill as in the fitting of artificial teeth.

Careful adjustment of the plate itself, the selection of teeth to fit the individual, both in size and in color, the arrangement of the teeth so as to present a natural and lifelike set—all these must be combined in order that satisfaction be given.

This office excels in the fitting of artificial teeth—the most difficult branch of dentistry.

CURE OF LARGE BREAST CANCER

Mrs. John Johnston
I first noticed a lump in my breast some six years ago, but as it seemed to be doing no particular harm and did not pain me I foolishly neglected it. About a year and a half ago the lump began to grow and pain began to run from the nipple. Alarmed at this I was examined by one of the best physicians in Vancouver, B. C., and was advised that an operation was my only chance of saving my life. My mother having died after an unsuccessful knife operation for cancer discouraged me, and I made up my mind never to have it cut. Seeing The Shirley Treatment in a San Francisco paper, stating that a Vegetable Plaster made the cure without knife or blood, I investigated their work and immediately thereafter commenced treatment.

Seven weeks from the day I started treatment the cancer fell out, and four weeks later my breast had entirely healed up. During treatment I saw many others cured, and I will gladly furnish their names and addresses upon request.

MRS. JOHN JOHNSTON.
Address 247 Faxon Ave., Inglewood, Cal.

Note: The Shirley Treatment is administered under the directions of China, Surling, 24 D. Offices located at 252 12th St., Oakland, Cal. Examination free. Write for our 64 page (free) book.—Advertisement.

keep his personal effects. The lockers are sanitary and ventilated. In the old building the clothes closet and locker space was extremely limited, but this difficulty will be obliterated in the new structure. Even so, it was found difficult to find room on each of the six floors and in the basement for the necessary lockers for the workers in each department.

Almost all the electric motors which are to operate the various time-saving devices in the new building, as well as to form the power plant for the mammoth Hoe press sent out from New York and set up in the press room, have been installed by the electrical department of The Tribune.

SIXTY-FIVE MOTORS. There will be sixty-five electric motors in operation in the new TRIBUNE building. These include the big seventy-five horsepower motor which drives the mammoth press, and smaller motors ranging down in the scale to the little quarter-horse power equipment. These motors operate everything from the presses in the basement and the job printing department to the linotype machines and the blowers for the Lamson pneumatic tube system for carrying copy. They are controlled from a central switchboard and also from sub-stations, permitting facility in the use of the power plant while affording the most perfect protection against injury to employees by fire.

The Lamson tube system is almost ready to be placed in operation. It will require two independent motors and compressed air plants, and will be in line probably the largest plant of its kind on this side of the bay. Separate air-carrying systems connect all the various departments and provide for the instant transmission of messages and copy.

OWN WEATHER BUREAU. The TRIBUNE is to operate its own weather bureau on the roof of the new building, where rain gauge and barometer will be installed. This will not mean that the weather data supplied through the courtesy of Prof. Charles F. Egan, of the Chabot Observatory will not be used in future, but merely that there will be an added check and a means of providing this information should there be a temporary difficulty in getting it from the Chabot Observatory.

Fisher represents the committee on public information at Washington, D. C., and is on a special mission to California. It is announced that he will have a special message to deliver tonight to the members of the league.

were housed. Her general appearance was that of the U-51—36 class, but her conning tower was like those of the U-49 class.

He says of his officers and men that "they were cool, calm and helpful to each other," and the sequel proved it. Though greatly weakened by cold and exposure, one officer swam from one raft to another in an endeavor to equalize their weights. He died, poor fellow, during the night from cold and exposure, but the survivors all say of him: "He was game to the end." A boatman's mate stripped off his own clothing to try and warm his dying officer. At the risk of almost certain death, one line man and another in the motor sailor boat till the ship sank trying to cast loose the lashings and get it off. If he had succeeded, twenty more lives would have been saved, but his failure to do so was the shining courage of his act. The death record contains again and again the entry opposite a name, "Died from cold and exposure and was dropped overboard to lighten the raft." So, even in death the poor fellows aided the living by easing them higher above the waves.

Two officers and sixty-four men gave up their lives that night, but they have not died in vain. They had played their part in protecting the thousands of supply ships which our flotilla has convoyed in the last eight months. They helped to keep the seas free from the Hun. And they are not unavenged. They made their own settlement in full in the war with the submarines. One of the vessels directly covered with floating oil to the full size of the submarine, and a man's body was seen by members of the crew.

VERY CONSERVATIVE

The British Admiralty is very conservative. It does not allow a "sink" except on the basis of the most direct evidence (line deleted). Now, if a mine explodes above a submarine, it sends her straight to the bottom, and all that one sees is more or less oil. (Three lines deleted.) Oil reports show frequently that the sink of a destroyer's record, so we know that besides those credited to her, there were doubtless others. Like a good fighter, she wreaked her own vengeance before she fell. Peace to her! Peace to the fine leads that lie with her at the bottom of the sea!

Now for the other casualty. Here again imagine the actual conditions. Two inches of perfume, no larger than a floating beer bottle, suddenly emerges from a choppy sea half a mile away on the destroyer's beam. An eagle's vision could not find it. As in the other case, first warning comes from the torpedo, the lightning stroke of death, racing across the sea. There's a yell from the lookout. The clang of the engine room bell. The vessel swings on her heels—too late. The torpedo strikes astern in the after crew's quarters.

Fourteen men were down in that compartment, which was practically blown away. One man's feet were touching a frame that was fused by the intense heat engendered by the explosion. Looking at the mass of twisted wreckage later, I could hardly believe it possible that any person could have come out of that compartment alive. Yet, with the exception of a fractured ankle suffered by the one man, they all escaped unhurt. Why? Because of one man's sacrifice. As each aft, he saw the torpedo heading straight for the stern where two depth mines, each charged with (deleted) T. N. T., hung ready for use. He knew the compartment was full of men. He had seen a depth mine watch aft to save the torpedo heading feet above the sea. He knew what they could do. It would have been quite easy for him to run forward to safety, but the sense of duty which rises in our race superior to the fear of death, dominated the lad. Let the officer on the other sunken ship, he can aff in a desperate race with the torpedo to reach and set the mines at "safe." His hands were on them when the torpedo struck. He went up with them in the air, but that a destroyer had made them safe is proven by the fact that they did not explode till high up above the deck.

TWO WAYS OF TREATING HERO

If the lad had been in the British navy, his wife, mother, sister or other surviving relative would have received the Victoria Cross his courage and sacrifice had earned. We have no such decoration. In place thereof, our nation sits in his office with his feet on a carpeted floor, uses the incident as a peg on which to hang his statement that "The Navy Falls Down." Save the mark! Common justice calls for the statement that this vessel could not have been more suitably handled. With all her stern blown off above the propeller, one screw and her rudder gone, she kept going. She could only stem in that direction, but circling thus, like a wounded hawk, she turned such a hot fire on the submarine when it came up to deliver a finishing blow, that it dived again and scooted like a scared crab from the dangerous overboard. Great seamanship was shown in getting that vessel back to port, but it is a tale too long for my space. Sufficient that, combined with the gallantry displayed by the officers and crews of both vessels, the courage and manly justice displayed by all these casualties are raised to the ranks of achievements worthy to go down in the history of our navy. Surely we expect casualties. Our officers and crews never know when we'll "kick over a mine." On the occasion that I went out with part of the fleet we maneuvered for two hours in waters that we found out afterwards had just been mined by a submarine. All in the day's work—and taken as such by the fellows who do it. And if they are willing to accept the risks, they to whom a torpedoed or the "kicking over of a mine" means death, surely the nation ought to try and emulate their spirit.

The ever-present danger is, however, the least of the destroyer sailor's troubles. He thinks more of the incessant hardships to which he is subjected. The vessels go out and stay out in all weathers, and let me tell you from experience that there is nothing in the way of motion on earth at once so insidiously sickening and yet so violent as that of a destroyer in a heavy sea.

SON DESCRIBES STORM AT SEA

A son of mine happens to be on a particular U. S. destroyer, and this is the description he gives of a more recent storm. "We were caught in a howling gale; the worst storm I ever saw. The wind blew with a velocity of 110 miles an hour; the ocean was one huge, mountainous sea. Our decks were swept clean of all movable objects, tool chests, boats and so forth. All of the living compartments were flooded with water; everything was wet, and, to make it worse, the thermometer dropped away below freezing point. For thirty-six hours we lay hove to, riding it out, before we could go about our duty."

"Some weather!" Before the war it would have been considered impossible for a destroyer to live through it. A commander who sent out a ship in a gale like that might go about our duty. "Some weather!" Before the war it would have been considered impossible for a destroyer to live through it. A commander who sent out a ship in a gale like that might go about our duty. "Some weather!" Before the war it would have been considered impossible for a destroyer to live through it. A commander who sent out a ship in a gale like that might go about our duty.

"Out of the thick pea soup fog a huge black freighter suddenly rose on our bows. As we swung on our heel with the screw reversed, a destroyer came shooting at us from the opposite quarter. Avoiding her, we almost ran down another steamer. I tell you for a while gray hell was loose there on a black sea, etc."

ALL TEND TO ADD DANGER

They have not always escaped, either. These past seasons have been so far, thank God, no fatalities! Nevertheless, their dangers, in summing up our fleet's work, have to be added to storm and tempest, mine and submarine.

It may be said, in conclusion, that their work, at the present juncture, is the most important of the war. While the European armies lock in a death grapple and the British and German fleets stand at "salomate," a decision is being fought on the sea by the Allied destroyers and Hun submarines. For if the latter could cut off the stream of supply ships from neutral countries and American ports the Allies would quickly be reduced to that point where Germany could claim, if not victory, at least its equivalent, a draw. This is already perceived. It will be seen still more clearly when, the war over and the obscuring battle clouds swept away, the evidence of the destruction and render their verdict. Be certain in that day the American destroyer flotilla will receive full credit as one of the deciding factors in this greatest of wars.

In the meantime, in order that the decision may be sooner reached, let us spend no effort or time in foolish criticism. Our sailors are going every day to face fogs and storms, cold and frosts, imminent dangers of the sea. Among them, as before said, is a son of mine—perhaps one of yours; if not, then a relative or friend. We are glad to have them go, though we know that some of them will never return. Their hardships and dangers are our joy and sorrow in order that they may do their best, they must carry in their hearts the knowledge that the home folks stand stoutly behind them. In that case they won't mind the hardships and dangers. They will go out smiling to the glory of the new battle hymn of the trenches, "Fugh-a-ba-lah," and cheerfully with old Farragut's watchword on their lips: "Damn the torpedoes! Steam right ahead." The man was caught by a Toledo detective on a description. Renner will be held pending some action by the Berkeley police who hold the warrant for his arrest.

Bartenders Find Holliday Is Just Prince of 'Em All

Crane Wilbur Macdonough

Actor Rumps Through Comedy With 250 of Them Among His Auditors.

The white aproned gentlemen of the town—the suave bartenders of Oakland—to the number of 250 gave their greetings to Crane Wilbur last night at the Macdonough, to see "the classiest bartender in America," and tonight the Oakland "knights of the strip and razor" the bartenders of the city are to "look in on Crane," and pass judgment upon the justly famous barber shop scene in "Hit the Trail Holliday."

On Tuesday night the ministers of Oakland attended in a body as a compliment to Crane Wilbur, and perhaps because they had heard that "Hit the Trail Holliday" is one of the biggest temperance lessons ever taught.

Anyway, Wilbur told the crowd at the Macdonough last night that it "kicked him pink" to see that every class of citizen—ministers, bartenders and bartenders, and plenty of the great plain people besides—enjoyed the George Cohan play, "Hit the Trail Holliday."

"I never frolicked so much in a role in my life," said Wilbur to a group of bartenders who met him back of the scenes last night. "It is just sport to me to play Billy Holliday. He's such a human sort of fellow, absolutely natural and on the level, and a prince of a man. Anybody that don't like the Billy Holliday type must be 'something wrong with his liver or heart.'"

Just to show the Macdonough theater—now the Crane Wilbur playhouse, by the way—is the theater of all the people, Crane Wilbur is giving the playhouse, to the church folk of Oakland every Wednesday at noon for noonday Lenten services. The theater is always packed at these services. It is so convenient for business men that scores of them drop in who might not take the time to tie themselves to a far away temple.

Dullest Wall Street Day in Weeks No Enthusiasm in the List

NEW YORK, March 7.—Extreme inertia marked the course of today's narrow operations, leaders showing little change and specialties lacking a definite trend.

Trading was extremely light and narrow in the first half hour, irregular changes in few instances exceeding small fractions. General Motors was the only striking exception, reacting three points. Liberty bonds were steady. Further weakness in the automobile group carried the general list down in the first hour, but prices recovered partly later on the strength of such divers issues as Shippings, Alcohol, Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive and Railway Steel Spring. Dealings continued at low ebb, the turn-over of the morning being the smallest of any similar period in many weeks. United States Steel moved within less than a half point range.

Absolute stagnation prevailed during the noon hour. The market was featureless except for a six-point break in Twin City Rapid Transit and recessions of 1 to 1 1/2 points in Central Pacific and "Soo." Liberty bonds were under persistent pressure.

Dullness was unrelieved in the final hour, but the list hardened on the improvement shown by rails and steels. The closing was firm. Liberty 4 1/2 sold at $7.40 to $7.41; first 4s at $6.24 to $6.25 and second 4s at $6.22 to $6.23.

The movement of prices at different periods of trading is indicated in greater detail in the following:

OPENING.—There was a steady tone at the opening with offerings light and in small amounts. General Motors sustained an opening loss of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, while Republic Iron & Steel and Crucible sold off fractionally. Atlantic Gulf & West Indies rose to 1 1/2. Marine preferred held steady. Copper shares held steady, while railroad stock sustained slight losses.

FORENOON.—Although a number of issues were in active concessions for the greater part of the first hour, some of the industrials showed a strong tone because of expectations that the showing to be made in the statement for the year 1917 would induce outside interest. Allis-Chalmers was one of the strong features, moving up 1 1/2 to 2 1/4. Republic Iron & Steel advanced 2 1/2 to 5 1/4. Studebaker was exceptionally weak, falling 1 1/2. General Motors and Republic Iron & Steel at 6 1/2, dropped back to 6 1/4. Atlantic Gulf was unusually active, selling up three points to 1 1/2. Steel common ranged between 2 1/2 and 2 3/4. General Motors dropped three points to 12 1/2.

AFTERNOON.—Although very small in the afternoon, business was shown in a few of the more active issues. Studebaker sold down to 4 1/4, a loss of over one point, and there was a drop of one point in Republic Iron & Steel. Tobacco products yielded about one point to 4 1/4. OSG-Tobacco was active, moving up followed by a rally to 7 1/2. Tobacco products yielded about one point to 4 1/4. Government bonds were unchanged; railroad and other bonds weak. Final trading was dull and price changes were minor. Tobacco and automobile shares advanced from 9 1/2 to 9 3/4. American Car & Foundry was active, moving up one point to 7 1/2. Sales, 225,000 shares; bonds, $2,775,000.

NO MIRRORS, SOAP, IN JAIL FOR WOMEN

There is not a rest room, a dressing room, a mirror or a bit of soap in the whole of the Alameda county court house for the convenience of women. The court, where their duties claim them for hours at a time, is going to make some difference or there is going to be a bit of agitation. It is already started with those who have served, speaking from a knowledge of inconveniences which they have suffered through the past several weeks. If women are to continue jury service some proper accommodation must be made not only for them but for the women who are obliged to go into court as witnesses.

Mrs. A. T. Kalas, a leader in the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs and one of the women included in the present jury panel, has started the campaign which will probably be taken up by women's organizations throughout the county.

"If a woman is overcome in the close court room," declared Mrs. Kalas, "there is not a place where she may be taken except the corridors. Sometimes it might be a woman juror and often it has been a woman witness whom the atmosphere has made ill. There is not a good drink of water which can be obtained except from the judge's pitcher and everybody seems to use that. There is not a mirror nor a bit of soap. After a hard morning it refreshes a woman to have a place to which she may go to straighten her hair and bathe her face. Something I suppose that cannot be helped is the lack of a lunch room. But if there was a proper rest room the women might take their noon meal there."

According to Mrs. Kalas, the woman as a juror has been most courteously treated by the men connected with the judiciary department of the county.

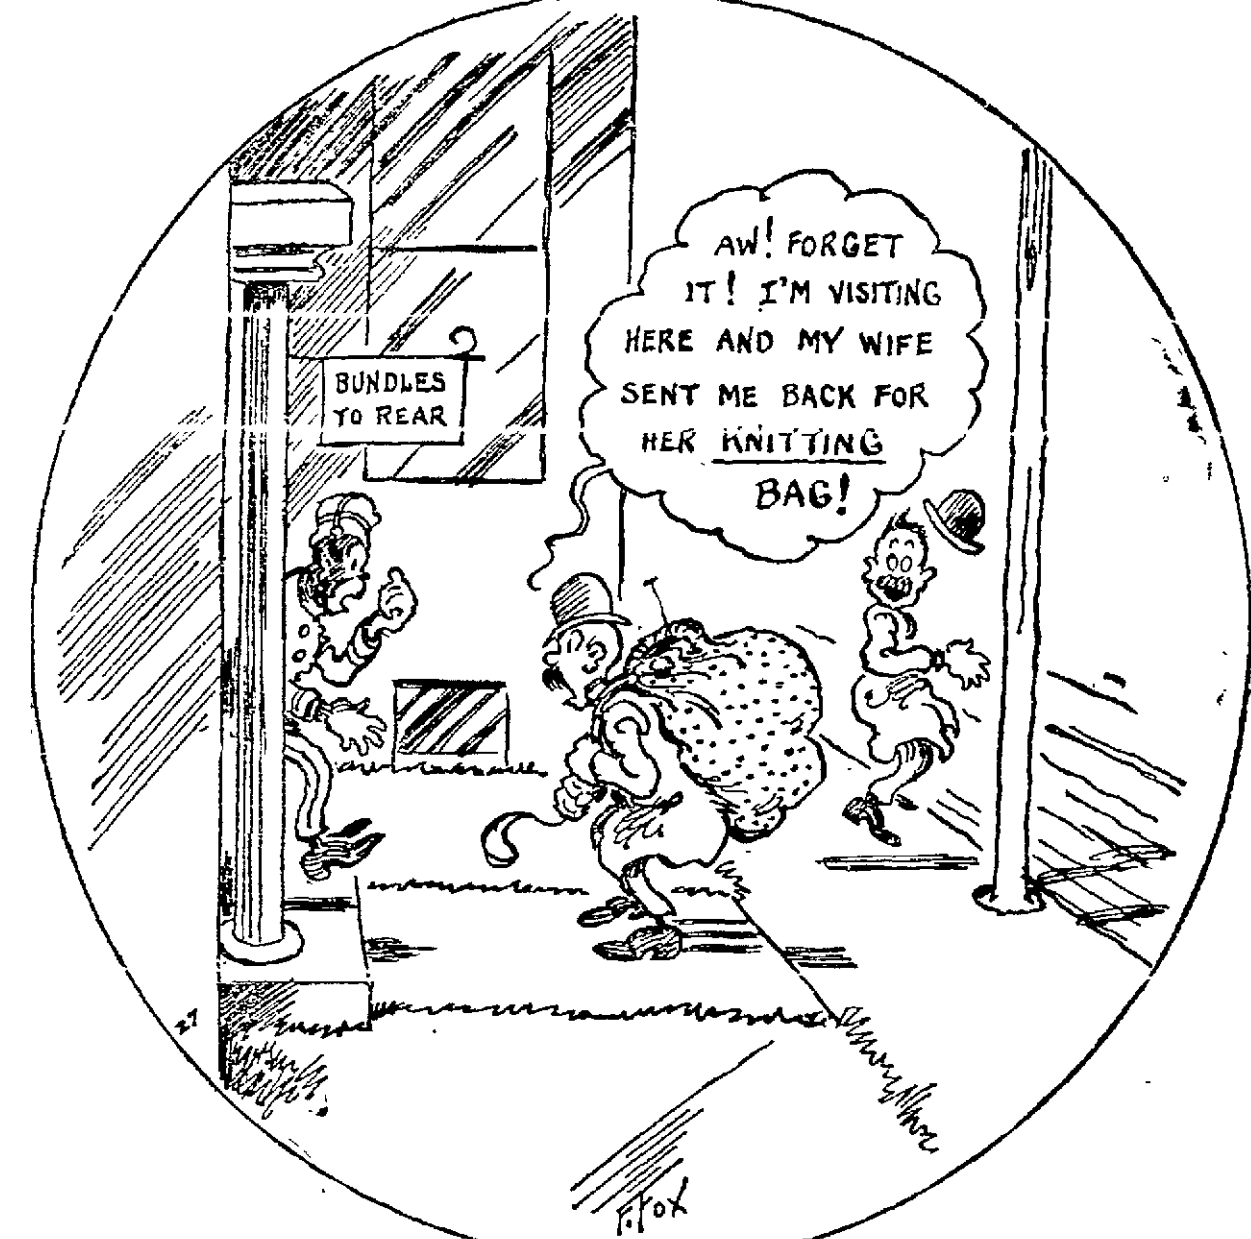

"Judge Harris gave his footstool to one of the women jurors," explained Mrs. Kalas. "The men are eager to see us comfortable. L. L. Woody, who is serving on this panel with us has been so kind as to make some of us footstools, which after our duty is over we take home as souvenirs. He has completed six. They are beautiful pieces of furniture with our name carved on the bottom. He is expecting to make one for every woman who has served on this panel with him."

Probe Death Of Minister Under Auto

Driver of the Machine Faces Charge of Manslaughter for Accident.

Struck by an automobile ambulance at Sixteenth and Adeline streets last night, Emil Plankuzen, an Evangelist whose home was at 1417 Adeline street, was instantly killed a moment after he had stepped from a street car on his way home. The auto was driven by J. C. Reynolds, an employee of the Electric Ambulance Company, who was on his way to the Sixteenth street depot to meet his wife and child. Reynolds took Plankuzen to the Emergency Hospital, but he was dead on admission. Reynolds was placed under arrest and charged with manslaughter and released on his own recognizance by Police Judge Mortimer Smith. He was arraigned in the police court today.

According to an investigation made by the police, Captain of Inspectors Harry Green stated that not only was Reynolds violating the traffic ordinance by passing the street car on the left side, but that he should have stopped when the street car stopped in front of him, and that he passed on the right-hand side as required, the accident could not have taken place.

The case is being further investigated by the police. Captain of Inspectors Harry Green stated that not only was Reynolds violating the traffic ordinance by passing the street car on the left side, but that he should have stopped when the street car stopped in front of him, and that he passed on the right-hand side as required, the accident could not have taken place.

DEALERS TO TEST MILK BOTTLE LAW

Claiming that the so-called "milk trust" in Alameda county is endeavoring to crush the small dairymen who peddle milk to a few customers or force them into the milk dealers' organization, a group of independent dealers have decided to make a test case of arrests of their members on charges of using labeled bottles belonging to the "trust" members. Five pleas of guilty to such charges were entered before Police Judge Mortimer Smith this morning and the defendants were fined $5 each. John Ryan, business agent of the milk drivers' union and himself a driver who is accused of misusing bottles, will stand trial before Judge Samuel tomorrow, having entered a plea of not guilty. The case will be fought out as a test of the legalities covering the situation.

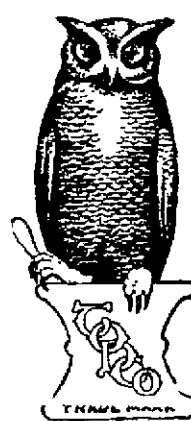

That there is a shortage of milk bottles and that the big dealers contrive to eliminate many of the bottles of the small dealers while at the same time they prosecute users of the "trust" bottles, is declared by Ryan and his associates in deciding to oppose further arrests and convictions. According to the dealers, the members of the "trust" have a bottle exchange at which they receive back their own bottles that have strayed for three cents each while the outsiders are charged from seven to eleven cents to get back their containers.

Those who pleaded guilty and were fined today are: John Rose Viera, Henry La Franchi, Joaquin Chavez, Jack Paqued, and Walter E. Miller.

Keyes, wholesale dealer in poultry, eggs, fruit and butter of this city, and with branch stores in Kansas City, Topeka and other Western cities, lost his food license today. The license was revoked by the United States Food Administration because of violations of the food regulations by Keyes.

WHOLE STATE VISITED BY RAINSTORM

Rain fell generally throughout the state today, except in the extreme northern counties, toward which the storm is headed, and where rain is expected before midnight. Oakland's heaviest precipitation occurred during the early morning, between the hours of 4 and 7, when rain was practically steady.

Up to 5 o'clock last evening the Oakland precipitation was .01 of an inch, and at 7 o'clock this morning it was estimated that .07 of an inch more had fallen. Fruit crops in Alameda county will suffer unless there are at least four more inches of rain, say farmers. The cherry crop especially will suffer, and it is said that the old cherry trees will not survive unless there is considerable more rain. While this has been a dry season to date, farmers are confident that, with a continuance of the present rain, there will be a sufficient precipitation to ensure good crops.

The south saw the heaviest precipitation, the rainfall registering 1.05 in Los Angeles, 1.24 at Santa Barbara, and 1.14 at Redlands. Stockton registered .38 of an inch and Sacramento .28. San Francisco and Oakland registered .05.

Mount Wilson showed the heaviest precipitation, its rainfall being gauged at 2.35 inches. Merced and valley points showed .35 for the past 24 hours.

The storm, according to the weather bureau, is moving in a northerly direction and is expected to cover the northern coast states before tomorrow.

Reports from Southern California state that highways have been washed out, road communication closed north of Santa Barbara, and that a steady downpour is predicted. The storm in the south is general from the Mexican line to the Tehachan and east into Arizona. Point Conception and Santa Barbara are points of heavy rain and the average 24 hour fall for the south is over an inch, and over a two-inch average for the whole storm.

Joe, He 'Needa Mon' So 'Steela da Watch' of 'Vera Grate Fren'

Receipt of a scrawled note through the mails today by Attorney John J. Rose shed new light upon the mystery of the theft of his gold watch which was picked from his pocket in the corridors of the police courts yesterday morning. Accompanying the note was a pawn ticket and the explanation from the writer, who signed himself "Joe," that he "needa the mon." The note read:

Mr. J. J. de Rosa; My vera grate fren. I steela you watch. I needa de mon. You nee cryman. I feel much sorra. I goin' give him back. I put him in ponshop. Your truly fren, Joe.

Attorney Rose has turned over the letter to Inspectors Drew, Quigley and McCarthy of the pawnshop detail, in an effort to learn the identity of the person who pawned the watch. He is again carrying the timepiece. He says that he is going to anchor it more firmly in the future.

Mavelous Duo Art

The very latest in Player Pianos, the product of the Aeolian Company, originators of the Pianola. The Duo Art is far ahead of all others in the important fundamentals—

- 1—Tone Gradation—having twice the number of Tone Gradations of any other player instrument, producing perfect "tone color" impossible in any other Player.
- 2—"Time" Control—which not only regulates the time but instructs and guides the one playing, assuring the correct interpretation of the selection.
- 3—Accenting the Solo—bringing out perfectly the solo (or melody), but at the same time controlling the accompaniment so that it properly supports the Solo.
- 4—No Pedaling—the air chamber is constantly supplied without foot pedaling, permitting the one playing to devote his entire attention to interpretation, thus making the instrument a pleasure instead of a labor.
- 5—Simplicity of Construction—no complicated or troublesome mechanisms, as in other Players.
- 6—Reproducing the Actual Playing of the Great Pianists—with the wonderful Duo Art Rolls, as perfectly as the Victrola reproduces the voice of Caruso and other great artists.

The Duo Art can be played by hand as a "straight" piano; it plays an 88-note roll and it is a reproducing instrument. The Duo Art is simply wonderful—we cordially invite you to see and hear this great instrument.
